19th Annual Desert Circus Under Way Today

Palm Springs to Celebrate 4-Day Event

Big Parade Will Move Down Drive Saturday Morning

Today's the day!

Desert Circus, top civic and fun event of the year for Villagers and visitors, starts today and continues through Sunday.

First requirement is the adoption of Western attire, and then festivities of the 19th annual event are under way.

TONIGHT, THURSDAY, is the traditional "Night on the Town." Village night spots are offering special entertainment and decorations in the Desert Circus motif, and Sheriff Bill Groves and his 60 lovely deputies will be out en masse to apprehend Kangaroo Court violators. It's a night of fun for everyone, designed as a "kick-off" to the three following entertainment-packed days.

Another feature tonight will be the presentation by the Jaycees of their Variety Show, "Palm Springs, U.S.A.," at the Desert Auditorium, North Indian avenue and Radio road, starting at 8:30 p.m.

FRIDAY, starting at 12:30 p.m., will be the ever-popular Kangaroo Court and luncheon at the Desert Inn Mashie Golf course, located at the west end of Tahquitz drive. Leo Fields will again serve as Judge, and many celebrities and entertainers will be present.

In the evening will be the second performance of the Jaycees' variety show, "Palm Springs, U.S.A."

Saturday, starting at 10:30 a.m., will be the colorful Desert Circus parade. This event, rated second only to the Rose Parade, attracts thousands of visitors with its beautiful floats, many bands, parades, and individual mounted entries. Theme of the parade and Circus is "Sports in the Sun."

ROBERTA LINN, outstanding TV singer and entertainer, will reign as Queen over the parade, as well as all other Circus events.

At 2:30 p.m., Saturday, is a thrill-packed Wild West show at the Polo Grounds arena, and in the evening will be the Sheriff's dance at the American Legion auditorium, 400 North Belardo road, featuring the music of Jerry Gray and his Band of Today.

Circus festivities will close Sunday with the first annual Square Dance Jamboree at Tamarisk Park. This event, cosponsored by the City Recreation department and the Cactus Jumpers Square Dance Club of Palm Springs, will attract square dance devotees from throughout Southern California. Dancing starts at 2 p.m.

FOR THOSE PERSONS who desire to wear conventional dress, immunity buttons are on sale throughout the Village at $1. All proceeds of Circus activities go to Palm Springs charities.

Jimmy Cooper is general chairman of this year's event, with Mac MacDonald, well known desert horseman, serving as his assistant. Adrian Rosen is president of the Desert Circus Association.

Easter Week Program to be Annual Civic Project

Easter recreation program for visiting teen-agers in Palm Springs will be adopted as an annual civic project, City Recreation Director Howard Haddock, chairman, announced today.

"The entire program was a success," Haddock said. Attendance at the high school swimming pool averaged 200, and the dances at the Youth Center gave the youth a well-rounded program.

"They took complete advantage of each and every facility," the chairman said.

GO WESTERN, is the advice to all Villagers and visitors from Roberta Linn, vivacious TV singing star, who will reign as Queen over all Desert Circus events, Thursday through Saturday. Miss Linn has adopted Western attire herself for the four days of fun and entertainment.

Water Dispute Under Study of Superior Court

Superior Court Judge John Babbage has under study today the dispute over water in the Wonder Palms-Tamarisk country club district precipitated when Anthony Burke and W. B. Milner, residents of the area, charged Montague Herbert had cut off their water supply. They filed suit in superior court.

Herbert last week flatly denied he had shut off the water from wells on his property which supply the property of Burke and Milner. He said that neither he nor any of his employees had turned off the valves.

LEONARD BOCK, attorney for Herbert, said that if the water had been shut off it had been done by the plaintiffs themselves or some one in their employ.

Herbert said that a meter had been installed on the well the day that it was charged the water had been shut off. He said the meter, a week later, showed 215,250 gallons of water had been used. He said the meter had been installed because Burke and Milner had claimed they were not getting enough water. Bock claimed that the meter showed they were getting more than stipulated.

Permits Must be Obtained for All Signs, Reminder

City Manager Robert W. Peterson today issued a reminder to all villagers that City ordinances require a sign permit for all signs, temporary and permanent, placed on buildings or windows.

"This time of year brings a great deal of activity in sign advertising," Peterson commented, "and we are happy to say that most Palm Springs merchants and proprietors, realizing the value of sign regulation, are cooperative. However, it is not always realized that temporary signs, including paper window signs, require a permit."

City License Inspectors Arthur Burkland and Weston Naef contact proprietors whose signs are in violation of the ordinance, and report excellent cooperation in conforming advertising devices to the ordinance, Peterson said. Sign permits are obtainable from the city building department.

A recent request addressed by the city to major oil companies, asking that they conform to city ordinances in not placing banners and streamers on their Palm Springs stations as used in other cities, received prompt and courteous reply. Several of the companies wrote cordial letters approving the city's attitude and expressing complete willingness to comply with local regulations.

Monday Desert Sun to Give the Facts

ROCKETSHIP TO THE MOON? Not quite that dramatic, perhaps, but the story of what has been happening to Palm Springs during the past year is an amazing one. For the full facts on the Village's economic growth and potential, see the Monday, April 18, Progress Edition of The Desert Sun.

323 Children Signed Up for Polio Vaccine

Local Doctors to Aid in Inoculations in Village Schools

Almost 400 first and second grade pupils in Palm Springs area schools will receive their first inoculations of the new poliomyelitis serum, probably starting next week, as result of the approval given Tuesday by the National Institute of Health on Dr. Jonas Salk's new vaccine.

Start of inoculations depends upon receipt of the vaccine which was rushed to all portions of the nation on receipt of federal licensing.

IN PALM SPRINGS and adjacent areas in the Palm Springs Unified School district and in St. Theresa's Parochial school, parents of 323 children had given their approval of inoculations as of Tuesday night, it was reported.

The story of the victory against poliomyelitis which flashed across the nation Tuesday was of special interest to one Villager, Dr. Herman Salk, brother of Dr. Jonas Salk whose research work developed the serum which ends polio's reign of terror. Dr. Herman Salk aided his famed brother in the early stages of experiments. (See Unedited today, Page 2a). (Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, who writes a weekly health column for The Desert Sun, comments on Polio Prevention in his article today on the Editorial page, 4b).

Pupils of the first and second grades will be given injections by local doctors, it was announced by Marjorie Caylor, county health nurse for this area. The week of April 18 was tentatively set as time for the first injections, depending upon arrival of the serum.

ALL IN ALL, there are approximately 450 pupils in these first two grades in schools of the district and more consent slips from parents are expected before the inoculations start. When word came that the final decision on the Salk vaccine would be announced this week, forms were sent home to parents in which they could indicate their desires. Pupils began returning them before the end of last week.

SCHOOLS LISTED where parents have indicated their consent are Frances Stevens, Katherine Finchy, Cahulla, Cathedral City, Desert Hot Springs, Thousand Palms and St. Theresa's.

Parents and schools will be notified as soon as the exact dates are determined, Ann Donohue, school nurse, said.

According to Dr. Everett Stone, county health officer, the schedule of injections will start next week, the second will be given the week of April 25 and the third, during the week of May 22.

Meiselman Plans Big Development

One of the largest transactions involving unimproved property near the center of Palm Springs was completed this week in which Jack Meiselman acquired all of the remaining lots in El Mirador Park, and announced plans for construction of homes in the area. Meiselman purchased the 26 lots from Rose Benjamin with Gannon Realty company representing him.

THE LOTS are in El Mirador Park on Paseo El Mirador, Linda Vista drive and Pasatiempo road.

The site is already subdivided and Meiselman announced plans for further improvements including palm trees and other beautification to make it one of the best sections in the Village.

PALM SPRINGS BIGGEST STORY TO BREAK SOON

By OLIVER B. JAYNES

Just about the biggest story that ever hit Palm Springs is in the making. This community has one vital problem that stands out above all others and is as old as the town itself. It isn't a new city hall or a municipal parking lot, a city golf course or even the long-sought Tramway; it is the Indian land problem — the greatest problem Palm Springs faces for the Indians and itself.

The almost unbelievable situation in a nut shell is that about 85 members of the Mission Band of Indians (most of them minors) have some 30,000 acres of land in and around Palm Springs worth millions of dollars being held in trust for them by the Federal government, on which they receive an annual rental profit of less than $50,000. The reason for all this is that a thriving community has grown up around an Indian reservation and no plan has been devised by the Bureau of Indian Affairs to cope with the changing conditions.

A workable solution is in the offing that stands a

COMMUNICATION REAL PROBLEM BEFORE 1920

By DON KLOTZBUECHER

Palm Springs once had only one phone, connected with a telegraph line at Garnet — and this wasn't too many years ago.

It was a private line, and remained in use until the 1920's when Western Union came to town.

Of course, it was located in the store of Carl Lykken, pioneer resident of the Village who with his wife, Edith, now resides at 242 Mountain View Place.

THE PHONE and its usefulness to the community was recalled this week, and brought out of an attic for presentation to the Palm Springs Historical Society.

Many important messages passed over the six-mile line during its years of service, with all Villagers and visitors having to depend on it for fast communication to the outside world.

Carl and Mrs. Lykken have many memories associated with the telephone, which was located in the rear of the store. They were the only ones to use the crank-type communication medium, as everything was transmitted by telephone to Garnet for relay by telegraph.

MOST IMPORTANT message ever to be received, recalled Mrs. Lykken, was the news that World War I Armistice had been signed.

"Carl took the top of an old rain barrel and ran up and down the street, banging on it to attract attention," she said. "He kept shouting, 'the war is over, the war is over.'"

Among the many visitors who made extensive use of the phone were Lois Kellogg, William Farnum (who rebuilt part of the town for a movie shot here), and Rudolph Valentino.

MOST USE the telephone ever experienced was at Easter

FIRST AND ONLY telephone in Palm Springs for many years was owned by Carl Lykken, who had it in the back room of his department store. It was an unusual telephone, as it was connected with only one place, the telegraph office at Garnet. Yet it served as the only direct line of communication with the outside world for more than 10 years. Above, Carl poses for one last time with the telephone before presenting it to the Palm Springs Historical Society.

Desert Sun Publishing Co. Incorporation Announced with Plans for Daily Issue

George E. Cameron Jr. Now Associated with Ward J. Risvold and Oliver Jaynes in New Corporation Publishing The Sun

First major step toward conversion of The Desert Sun to a daily newspaper came this week when corporation papers were filed with the Secretary of State for organization of The Desert Sun Publishing Co. George E. Cameron, Jr., well known local resident and prominent oil man, has joined with Oliver B. Jaynes and Ward J. Risvold, present owners, in the formation of the new corporation.

Under the new corporate setup, Cameron will serve as president of the board. Risvold will be vice-president and publisher while Jaynes will serve as secretary-treasurer and editor. The three directors will own all of the corporate stock and no one will hold a majority.

GEORGE CAMERON is well known in this area where he has lived most of the time during the last five years. Two years ago he moved the general office of his oil production business to Palm Springs, being located in Sunset Tower building. He became an independent oil producer in Illinois in 1935 and now operates in Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. Other offices are maintained in Ardmore, Oklahoma; and Denver, Colorado.

Son of a Baptist minister, Cameron was born in Paris, Texas. After attending Southern Methodist University he started work in the oil fields as a "rough-neck" on drilling rigs and worked his way up until 1934 when he became a superintendent. But he was soon on his own.

CAMERON BUILT and directed television station KOTV at Tulsa, which started operations in 1949. He operated the station until 1952 when it was sold to Wrather-Alvarez, Inc. He is presently an applicant for a new television station at Hartford, Conn. He has also announced plans for the construction of a shopping center here in Palm Springs on South Palm Canyon Drive between Mesquite Avenue and Riverside Drive, to be known as Cameron Center.

Golfing was the major attraction that brought Cameron to this area. He is a member of both Thunderbird and Tamarisk clubs and an avid golfer. He and his wife, the former Daphne Myrick, reside at Thunderbird. They were married last January.

When moving his general office to Palm Springs, Cameron brought his business manager, C. C. Hutchens, with him. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchens also

DR. HOFF ASKS EARLIER TERMINATION OF POST

Dr. Arthur Hoff, superintendent of Palm Springs Unified School district, this week announced that he will request the district board of education to advance the date of his resignation by 30 days, to enable him to accept the position of superintendent in charge of finance for Chaffey Junior College and high school district in Ontario.

Dr. Hoff, who was scheduled to leave June 30, will make his request tonight during the regular meeting of the board at Frances S. Stevens school, and ask that he be allowed to leave to accept the position in Ontario by May 1. In July of this year he would have completed seven years in this district.

TOMORROW NIGHT is the deadline set by the school board for applications for the position of superintendent of schools for the district to fill the vacancy created by Dr. Hoff's resignation. The trustees plan to start reviewing the nearly forty applications which have been received from all over the United States immediately. When the board narrows down the applications to a few, personal interviews of the remaining applicants are scheduled.

Ray Sorum, president of the board of education, said, "The board of trustees has used every available means to draw the finest personnel to apply for the position as superintendent. In screening the applications, the board is ever cognizant of the fact that we are acting on behalf of the people of this school district, and when we arrive at a decision, that person will meet all the qualifications necessary to keep this school district one of the finest in the state."

THE BOARD of Education will, in the event that Dr. Hoff's request is approved, appoint an acting superintendent for the completion of the school year.

Under the procedure set up by the trustees, appointment of a new superintendent will not be done immediately, and will probably not be announced for at least two weeks.

Scout Leaders Plan Public Relations Seminar Here

Public Relations Seminar for all Riverside County Districts, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at El Mirador hotel Sunday, April 17, with 80 persons expected to be in attendance. Honored guests will be Glen Rice, public relations counsel of the national group; John Triplett, assistant regional Scout executive; C. J. Carlson, president of the Riverside County Council; Frank J. Malter of Indio, and Gordon Colonne, Indio mayor, who heads the public relations for his district. Acting as hosts for the meeting will be Jim Morton, Palm Springs district public relations chairman; and members of his committee, Ray Corliss, Don Klotz, Mickey Finn, and Red Kenyon.

The meeting will open with a breakfast-business session at 10 a.m. to be followed by luncheon on the Kiva Room patio. Another business session will follow. At 6 p.m., a chuckwagon dinner catered by Jack Power will be served at Sunny Cove.

Public relations chairman and committee members from the Coachella Valley, Palm Springs, Riverside districts are expected to be in attendance.

SIX OUNCE COSTUMES but don't try to actually weigh them. The four beautiful damsels above form the foreground not the background for Gypsy Rose Lee's hit on the entertainment bill in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi. But do not take away from the fast chatter that beautiful Gypsy Rose Lee sends across the footlights. It is the most important part of her show. Paul Gilbert is still the tops when it comes to comedy in this town and he is proving it nightly during his current stay.

Uranium Rush in Full Swing in Riverside County

The uranium rush is under way in Riverside county, Jack Ross, county recorder, said this week.

He said that an average of 70 claims per day are being filed in this office. He said that about two square miles of county land are coming under claims each day.

Most of the claims are being filed on mountain and desert land east of Joshua Tree National monument.

Part of the uranium excitement is on land in the Thousand Palms-Pushwalla district where leases were signed by owners of land with the Intex Oil company of Bakersfield which is planning to begin drilling within a few weeks what is termed rich uranium deposits.

School Election Filings to End on Wednesday

With deadline for filing nominations for two positions on the board of education for the Palm Springs Unified School district less than a week off, only one nomination had been filed at the offices of County School Superintendent Ray S. Johnson as the week started.

Paul Traver, one of the two incumbents whose terms expire this year, has filed for election. He was appointed during the year to fill out the unexpired term of the Rev. Willard Hanson of Desert Hot Springs. Rev. Hanson resigned because of the increasing pressure of his church work.

MRS. HELEN STALEY, clerk of the board, whose term also expires, said earlier this week that she had not yet decided whether to be a candidate to succeed herself. She has been on the board for a number of years.

Deadline for filing nominations is next Wednesday, April 20. The election is scheduled for May 20.

THREE PRECINCTS have been established for the balloting. One includes all of Palm Springs, the second, the Desert Hot Springs area and the third, Cathedral City and the eastern end of the district.

Rolling places will be at the Frances S. Stevens school here, at the Desert Hot Springs school and at the Cathedral City school, with polls open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Probably nobody in the area is more pleased about having the Square Dance Jamboree at Tamarisk Park Sunday afternoon than Ben and Ben Scott, who have been the most active spirits back of keeping the Cactus Jumpers Square Dance Club of Palm Springs together. They not only are the best Square Dancers in the area but have taught more beginners to Square Dance in their patio than all the teachers. If there is a Square Dance within 50 miles the Scotts will be there.

Tears trickled across three thousand miles of telephone cable Tuesday. They were tears of faith, joy, and happiness that welled upwards from the depths of human emotion between a father and mother in New York and a son here in Palm Springs.

The father is Daniel and the mother Dora and their son way out here, distant from New York City where he was reared with two other brothers, was Herman Salk—Dr. Herman Salk, veterinarian and owner of the Desert Animal Hospital on Sunny Dunes road.

THE CONVERSATION between the doctor son and his parents was interpolated with tears and those that dropped did not fall in New York City alone. Dr. Herman Salk here admitted to me that he shed some, also.

The subject of their conversation? We all know what it was. It concerned the triumphant success of the anti polio serum that famed scientist, Dr. Jonas E. Salk developed back in Pittsburgh. With the announcement that the serum would wash away the dread fears of an entire world in its defeat of crippling polio—well, if I had a brother who had played such an important part in conquering this disease I, too and you, would shed a tear or two.

DR. HERMAN SALK who bought the Desert Animal hospital last year worked with his famous brother in the search for the perfect anti-polio serum. "I had charge of from 3,000 to 5,000 animals which included monkeys and mice," said Dr. Salk here. "They had to be in perfect health at all times or they could not be used in the polio serum tests."

"No, I have not tried to talk to my brother. He is so busy you know since the announcement of the success of the serum."

VETERINARIAN SALK said that he has another brother, (there were three boys in the family). His name is Dr. Lee Salk, clinical psychologist on the staff of the University of Montreal.

"We were all born in New York City," Dr. Salk said. My father was born in this country but my mother came from Russia."

Veterinarian Salk is the father of two children and he pointed out that his two children and those of his brother's, Dr. Jonas, were inoculated with the anti-polio serum two years ago this month.

"MY BROTHER was sure of the end result and we all believed the same way," he said. Dr. Jonas felt that the formula could not fail. He was so sure about it that he inoculated himself and his children with the serum months before it was injected into the veins of more than 400,000 children.

"In all the stories that have appeared in the newspapers and over TV and radio one person was omitted to whom a great deal of credit is due. She is my sister-in-law, Donna, the wife of Dr. Jonas."

"She almost had to have an appointment with him before he could see her. His travels took him to many foreign countries. He worked long hours in his laboratory. Most women would have packed up and said to heck with all of this. She did not. She deserves a great deal of credit."

Thanks, Dr. Herman Salk, veterinarian and to your mother and father for rearing a son like Dr. Jonas E. Salk. I'm going to sleep a little better at nights without the worry that polio might cripple my Kater and millions of other children throughout the world.

THERE IS ONE MAN in town who is doing his very best to bring this town back to the Western atmosphere it once bragged about. He is none other than George Rasmussen and his western gear and saddlery store on Indian avenue opposite El Mirador hotel.

Bill Hastings spends his weekends searching with a geiger counter in the mountains. Occasionally he takes his young daughter Susie, 7, with him. By the time he comes home his bag of rocks, which he examines at home, is mighty heavy. That's why he was reluctant to put the one Susie picked up in his bag.

He geiger-counted all of his rocks but no good. Then his little daughter asked him to examine the one she picked up. "Yes Sir! It was hotter than a fire cracker. Loaded with uranium. But Susie doesn't remember where she picked up the tiny rock."

SUMMER is on its way to Palm Springs and Dagmar, guest at Bob and Andrea Howard's fashionable hostelry, Howard Manor, shows how to take advantage of it: She lunches, keeps cool and studies script for her movie debut all in one operation.

Gay Comedy "Hay Fever" Presented at Playhouse

When Noel Coward wrote "Hay Fever," the production now being staged in Palm Springs Playhouse, he surely must have had his tongue in his cheek!

The play is definitely a parody on many types of families and on the guests who visit them. Opening action takes place in the Blisses' house in Cockham, England, where the family is pictured as a group of non-conformists. They invite for the weekend a few houseguests, who being rather normal human beings, find their visit most disturbing with the mad family.

This week's cast is enlarged to nine with Peggy Walker, a guest star last week remaining to play the ex-actress mother part. And play it very well she does as one who will always live life as though she were on a stage, much to the amazement of her houseguests and at times the disgust of her family. Another guest star of a few weeks back, Richard Lupino, again appears and plays well the artist son. Receiving good audience reaction in her part as the maid was Lynn Wood.

Helen Stenborg again won the audience in her excellent portrayal of the young houseguest, completely unsophisticated and terribly ill at ease during most of the play. Sidney Breese is the playwright father, Robert Mandan, the young swain who falls in love with several during the weekend; Mary Fossitt, the Blisses' daughter, Michael Ferrall directed and played a literary figure of London. And last but far from least was Phyllis Flax, whose acting and beauty combine to make a most outstanding performance in whatever play she appears.

At the close this, the last in the series of 14 weekly plays presented in Palm Springs this winter, Herb Rogers the able producer gave a short talk to the audience and introduced each of his regular cast and the guests appearing this week. Mr. Rogers, in bidding farewell to the audiences this week, promised to bring his group back next winter for another season, and it was an happy announcement to the many here who have enjoyed each of the weekly productions so ably presented. It's an unusual group, which can play one play at night and practice all day on the next week's performances. A warm farewell goes to Mr. Rogers and his excellent cast, who this week terminate their fourteenth week of bringing Broadway to the Desert.

Hotel Division to Hear Tram Data

Latest progress report on the local Tramway project will be presented by Francis Crocker at a breakfast meeting of the Hotel Division of the Chamber of Commerce at 8:15 a.m., Tuesday, at the Palm Springs Ranch Club.

Preceding this report a film will be shown by John Miller dealing with the Franconia Tramway in New Hampshire, according to Tom Kieley, division president.

All members are urged to attend, and to bring guests, and non-members are invited, Kieley said.

Cancer Control Sunday to be Observed Here April 17

Cancer Control Sunday will be observed on April 17 throughout Riverside county and the United States, as the spiritual highlight of the American Cancer Society's current crusade against that disease. Mrs. M. M. Portis, Palm Springs Unit chairman, announced today. Cancer Control Sabbath will be April 16.

Leaders of all faiths throughout the nation, on those dates, will devote special programs, sermons and prayers to the problem of cancer control. This religious approach to the menace of cancer has been an inspiring feature of Cancer Control Month in past years, Mrs. Portis said.

"Prayer has a strong influence for good on the mental, emotional and spiritual states of those fighting cancer," the local chairman explained.

"Such help cannot be measured, but many doctors, nurses and American Cancer Society volunteers regard prayer as a valuable aid to the morale of patients.

"This religious aspect of the crusade against cancer, with its message of faith and hope, will be stressed in local pulpits on both Cancer Control Sunday and Sabbath. These special services will be dedicated to all those engaged in the struggle against the disease which now ranks as America's No. 2 killer."

Contributions in the local fund drive may be sent to: Cancer, Palm Springs.

good chance of being adopted. A committee of highly successful businessmen, appointed by Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, has been studying for several weeks the Indian problem as it relates to this particular area. From all reports they are expected to reach a decision soon.

Although no official announcement has been made, indications are that this group will come up with recommendations that will be approved by all concerned: the Indians, the city of Palm Springs, the Department of Interior — and with such support proper action by Congress should follow. There's a good reason for this belief. The men whose minds have been put to the task this time are executives in some of the nation's largest corporations. They have the know-how, and they have no selfish interests to serve.

With the interests of only the Indians in mind, the plan is expected to look toward the disposition of all allotted and Tribal lands within ten years. Thus the wraps will be taken off Palm Springs although this will be an incidental benefit, no matter how important.

It has been suggested before; The Desert Sun has proposed the formation of a trust, not under government control, to expedite the allocation and sale of Indian lands in the best interests of the Indians. But it was just an idea. It takes men of experience in such matters to devise a workable and equitable trust. Count on these men doing just that. These business experts must have been amazed to find a situation in which some of the Indians are almost destitute while holding rights in highly valuable lands. It must have been hard to believe. It must also have been a challenge to them.

That's why new hope dawns on the horizon. This problem has been kicked around for years by politicians and men with profit motive. Others have made sincere and unselfish attempts, only to have them blasted by a minority with selfish interests. Never before has the unhappy situation been appraised by men of the caliber of this committee.

Residents and business interests of Palm Springs, along with the Indian Band, will wait official word of this committee's recommendations with profound interest. While it undoubtedly will have no immediate effect that would upset the economy of the community, it may well be the most important milestone in the history of Palm Springs.

Big news is in the making—and it's going to be good!

and Christmas, when about 100 messages had to be taken in longhand, typed out and then delivered. These were in addition to those sent from here.

Among the humorous incidents recalled by the couple was the story of a cowboy who sent a night letter of 50 words every day to an actress in New York—COLLECT.

Carl purchased the telephone and the line in 1915 and moved it from the Palm Springs Hotel to his new store, located on the site now occupied by Palm Springs Department and Hardware store.

It took a great amount of time, and kept him busy day and night so he wasn't unhappy when Western Union extended its line here. Besides the placing and receiving of messages, he and Lee Arenas were kept busy repairing the line and pole damage, caused by winds and floods.

MANY PEOPLE complained when Western Union came to town though. Poles were erected along Highway 111, and for the first time in the history of the Village the view from the highway was marred by telegraph poles. Poles for Carl's private line had run across the desert.

The need for his service no longer existed, so he and Lee Arenas reversed the repair procedure and removed their line and posts.

Only remembrance of the first telephone service in Palm Springs is now the phone, which was presented Friday to the Historical Society.

Herbert, who said he was not a realtor as designated at the time of the suit, but an investor and director of Tamarisk club, said that notices had been sent Burke and Milner in February of a raise in rates on April 1 because of increased use of water from wells on his land.

BOCK DECLARED that a counter suit will be filed against Burke and Milner, asking $25,000 in damages as result of their suit.

Judge Babbage, before whom the counter charges were filed, now has the contract under study to determine how much water each is entitled to.

On The Trails

Desert Riders Easter Week Breakfast at the Canebrakes, turned into a great affair. Along with the usual members, there were guests galore. Millie and Keith had their tiny and adorable new baby out to look the world over. Jeano Ballard brought a whole Tally-Ho full of young fry... singing "We're Always Late"... and later they chipped "Pier Cottontail" to the delight of all. Johnny Boyle's guitar played an important part of course. Ed McCoubrey's guest was William B. Moench, Buick dealer from Los Angeles, who rode his beautiful Palomino Arab "Golden Queen" and who, with his wife spent the Easter Holidays here. Mickey Finn, who always has a deserving youth in tow, brought twenty boys from a Los Angeles Christian Youth Association. The boys were a fine example of the wholesome side of the much disputed teenage ledger. Mickey had them down for a few days in the sun.

Los Compadres had a Moonlight Ride to the Cove for one of "those" dinners. The Cove seems to be the popular night rendezvous. The Desert Riders followed suit with last Thursday's fullest moon.

The trails of late seem to have taken on the activity of old... when there was never a daylight moment when riders could not be seen somewhere on the desert. It is good to know that Palm Springs is endowed with a forever and ever future for trails. Our location, with its close proximity to the mountains, makes it impossible to outgrow them.

When we see the daily expanse of building and the gobbling up of our former trails... we need only to look to the mountains with their greater expanse and vastness... for reassurance.

Come out and enjoy them.

Better Signs for La Quinta Planned

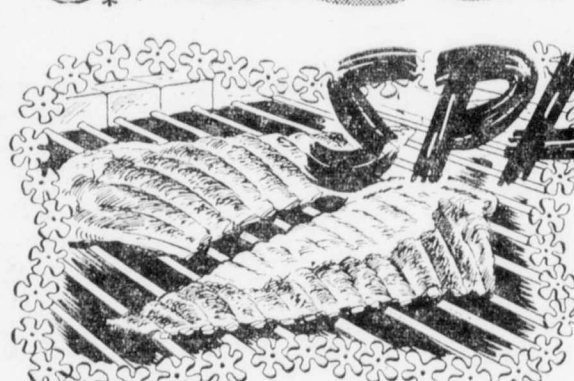

Supervisor Homer Varner said the state highway department is planning to install two large reflector signs pointing the way to La Quinta at the intersection of Highway 111 and the La Quinta road. Chamber of Commerce of La Quinta has long advocated these signs declaring the present small signs make it difficult to locate the road.

School Building Program Topic of Board Tonight

Board of education will meet tonight at 7:30 at the offices of the Palm Springs Unified School district to continue their study of the building program authorized by voters in February.

Tentative program calls for an expenditure of $1,993,000 from the bond issue of $2,125,000.

The program is subject to revision after further study but calls for one additional school building with eight rooms on Section 19, additional class rooms, special-purpose rooms, offices and site improvements at all of the school plants in the district.

Included are improvements at the local elementary and high schools, and grade schools at Desert Hot Springs, Thousand Palms and Cathedral City.

Winter Resident Taken by Death

Last rites were said in Los Angeles last week for Samuel Cohen, prominent Los Angeles jeweler and a Palm Springs winter resident for 21 years who died suddenly here on April 5.

He was taken ill at his home here while preparing to drive to Los Angeles that morning. He was hurried to Desert Hospital where he succumbed that afternoon.

Mr. Cohen was a high degree Shriner, a life member of the Elks and a Kiwanian.

He and his wife, Mildred Light Cohen, had been winter residents of the Village since 1934. In 1948 they built their own home at 1401 Verbena drive.

Mr. Cohen is survived by his wife, Mildred, two sisters, Mrs. Ray Copp and Mrs. Dora Perelstein and a brother, Maurice Cohen of Spokane.

New Tract on East Ramon Given VA, FHA Approval

J. W. von Brimmer, president of the Amco Home Service corporation, said Monday that approval of the Veterans Administration had been received for a tract of more than 300 lots on East Ramon road adjoining the Outpost Estates.

Building permits have been filed and the initial unit of 22 houses have been started.

THE TRACT also has been given an individual approval by the FHA.

Developers expect to reach a construction pace of one house completed per day by mid-summer as all tract improvements are completed.

The initial unit will be comprised of two bedroom homes with three and four bedrooms and two bath units to start soon, Brimmer said.

ALL HOMES will be completely landscaped, he said, with lawns, sprinklers, shrubbery and redwood fences.

The homes will be available to both veterans and non-veterans.

The contractor is the Megalen Homes, Inc., of Los Angeles. Claude Allen is the superintendent.

The homes were designed by Brimmer with financing arranged by the Amco corporation of Beverly Hills.

Championship play in the second annual Senior Golf Tournament sponsored by the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association will be held Friday and Saturday at Thunderbird Country Club.

The finals of the four-ball best-ball play are today, Thursday. John Dawson of Thunderbird is defending champion and will again be one of the favorites in play this year. Awards are made in low gross and low net, as well as in different age classifications.

Dawson also was a member of the winning foursome of last year, with other golfers on the team being Phil Atkins, Rod DeLange and William McKinnay.

All golfers competing in the tournament are 50 years of age or older, and reside west of the Mississippi.

In honor of the golfers a stag chuckwagon breakfast will be held poolside at Thunderbird today.

Thunderbird is the home of the Senior Tournament of Trans-Mississippi, with a plaque denoting this at the first tee.

Jack Allgaler, Omaha, Nebraska, vice president of Trans-Mississippi and Thunderbird member, is tournament chairman. Robert W. Goldwater of Phoenix is president.

Swimmers After Record Sunday

Marking the 50th anniversary of the start of Salton Sea back in 1905, Salton Sea Beach Resort on the south side just off Highway 99, will sponsor a championship endurance swim Sunday when Dr. W. W. Slater and Charles P. Day, both of Long Beach, will challenge the record now held by Tom Park, also of Long Beach.

Dr. Slater and Day, a salesman, recently competed in a marathon swim in Lake Mead's chilly waters in February, and both have had considerable experience in long-distance swimming.

Jim Leishman and Park will accompany the swimmers in a row boat. The swimmers will enter the water on the north shore between 9:30 and 10 a.m. Sunday.

At the Beach resort, Helen Burns, owner, will stage a pageant marking the 50th anniversary of the sea while the men are in the water.

Littler Favorite at Las Vegas

Gene Littler of Thunderbird was listed as the early favorite for the Las Vegas Tournament of champions scheduled for April 28 to May 1.

He was quoted at 7 to 1 in the first prices posted on the annual golf tourney.

The local golfer had trouble in the Masters Tournament at Atlanta, Ga., last week carding a 75-52-76-75-298, 19 strokes behind the winner, Cary Middlecoff.

Mike Souchak Keeps Wrists Firm

By Alex J. Morrison
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

Tournament pro Mike Souchak was playing his final round in the Open at San Antonio, Texas, over the tricky "rockridge" course. Stout of heart and limb, good old Mike was out there battling with the elements on a treacherous layout of fairways, greens and hazards.

The equipment with which he fought this and other battles is mighty important, at least to Mike Souchak.

For the first three rounds the battle was very much in Mike's favor. In his first round of 60 his last nine of 27 added record to record. His second and third rounds of 68, 64, enabled him to hold his lead.

Much as I wanted the final unfurling to name Mike "winner," I was quite concerned about his chances of keeping them straight.

In the Thunderbird event at Palm Springs he flipped a couple to lose a playoff for open money. He has experienced similar difficulties about direction in his shots after turning in two or three good rounds in several other recent tournaments.

While practicing putting during the San Diego Open, he asked Jack Burke, Jr.: "How can anybody hole a putt on bumpy greens?"

Jack replied: "Nobody is likely to putt well rolling his hands and turning the clubface as you're doing. I'm sure Alex will agree that the most consistent success is had from keeping the clubface as square as possible to the line at all times."

This advice fits well with the putting techniques of most players. But trying to keep the clubface square at all times when playing longer shots often causes the player to slight swinging essentials, such as wrist action.

The present vogue of holding the wrists "firm" in the backswing, such as shown in the accompanying action photo, invariably forces the clubface to flip one way or the other when striking the ball.

Proper wrist freedom is essential.

SMC Women's Golf Event Won by Mrs. Hubbell

Mrs. Ruth Hubbell was the winner in a colorful Calcutta tournament at Shadow Mountain club Monday, winning in a sudden-death playoff on the 10th hole after she and Dorothy Peterson had come up in a dead-heat after the regulation nine-hole play.

Mrs. Peterson took second place honors and Theda Bradley third.

Others entered in the tournament were June Goodwin, Verna Farrington, Dolly Oleson, Ada Chambers, Betty Ives, Belle Kinsley and Helen Sumpter. Many of the players' husbands served as caddies in the event.

Arrest Juveniles as Suspects in Robbery Study

Two Los Angeles youths, 16 and 17 years of age, were returned to the Village by Police Chief August G. Kettmann Tuesday evening to face charges of strong-arm robbery.

The two boys are suspected of using force to rob Mrs. Adel Kleiman, 300 East Ramon road, of her purse, while she was returning home from a movie through a downtown parking lot about 11:53 p.m., Saturday. While taking the purse, one suspect knocked the victim to the ground.

Tracing of the two boys was accomplished through the license number of the car believed used to make a getaway, according to witnesses at the scene. It involved the checking of several transfers of ownership by Santa Monica and Los Angeles police.

After the arrest of the two youths in Los Angeles, authorities here reported that they admitted being in Palm Springs the night of the robbery, and that they had been staying with relatives in Desert Hot Springs.

Burglars Leave Most of Loot in Frightened Flight

Five rooms of a downtown hotel were burglarized Saturday evening, but 90 percent of the loot was recovered as the two suspects were frightened away before having a chance to load the articles into their car.

Entry to two of the rooms was made through unlocked doors, and to the three others by forcing open a screen and then unlocking the doors.

Victims were: Harry Roberts, West Los Angeles, a clock valued at $40; Meyer Kaplan, Los Angeles, a clock, two radios, camera, and two electric razors; Leonard Kaplan, Chicago, clothes valued at $214; Mrs. Kenneth McGinnis, Pasadena, $80 in cash, and an electric razor, and Mrs. Reginald Lentz, Pasadena, $80 in cash and a radio.

In the room of Mrs. Lentz, the burglars left untouched valuable furs and jewelry, investigating officers said.

The burglars were frightened away without the majority of their loot when questioned by Bill White, manager of Howard Manor, as to their presence on the hotel grounds. They claimed to have been guests, and that they had just checked out of their rooms. The burglaries were discovered about an hour later, at 12:55 a.m., Sunday.

'Palm Springs, USA,' Jaycee Play to be Circus Feature

One of the top events of the Desert Circus weekend will be the presentation of "Palm Springs, U.S.A." by the Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Written and produced by Jaycees and Jayceettes, the story takes you on a tour of Village night spots with a beautiful super-tourist from New York, intent on exploring all that goes to make Palm Springs unique.

With names of leading local places hidden cleverly in such phrases as "On the north end of town there's a Doll of a house," you are taken into the spots with the supertourist and there you see one, of more than twenty olio acts. The production will be staged in the Desert Auditorium, just below the Racquet Club on Indian avenue. The play will be put on two nights at 8:30 o'clock (Thursday and Friday) and beverages will be served. Sparked with plenty of singing "Palm Springs, U.S.A." features the Jaycee chorus and solo singing by Joe Wood, Art Weil (who wrote his own lyrics), Norma Smith, and Dixie Bren. The sets were designed and painted by Robert Linky, and the play was directed by Rozalin Bronstein with lights and technical advice by Rick Harrison.

make their permanent home here, at 1177 Mesquite avenue. The George Cameron, Oil Producers, office here is open the year around.

PLANS ALSO CALL for the addition of machinery to improve the printing quality of The Desert Sun, establishment of a carrier delivery system in the Palm Springs resort area, acquisition of the latest photographic and engraving equipment for better picture reproduction and enlargement of the staff.

Growth of Palm Springs and the surrounding resort area during the last few years has been so rapid that The Desert Sun has been adding equipment and enlarging the staff constantly to keep pace with the demand for more news and advertising space. Facilities are now adequate for conversion to a daily publication, and the growth in population and number of business establishments warrants such a change, in the opinion of the management. With a present circulation well over 7000, it is estimated that this figure will be increased to 10,000 within a year on a daily basis.

THE DESERT SUN was established in 1927 by Carl Barkow who also owned the Banning Record. All of the mechanical work was done in the Banning plant. Jaynes purchased the business in 1946, converted it to a semi-weekly at once and set about assembling a printing plant in Palm Springs. Two years later the new plant was opened in The Center where the business is still located. The complete plant, which includes facilities for composition, presswork, engraving and photography, makes The Desert Sun a 100 percent local product and provides one of the city's largest payrolls.

Minor Damage Follows Crash

Minor damage was caused to cars driven by William Stoddart, 59, Los Angeles, and Arthur Burnham Bigelow, 46, in an accident at 2:55 p.m., Sunday, in the 800 block of North Palm Canyon drive.

Bigelow had stopped to make a left turn, and his car was struck by Stoddart's. The latter driver told police that he had dropped his watch on the floor of the car, and in reaching for it, his foot slipped off the brake pedal.

Damage to Bigelow's car was estimated at $50, and to Stoddart's $225.

About three years ago Risvold purchased a half interest in The Desert Sun and became general manager. He had published two weekly newspapers in Wisconsin, and before that had been on the staff of King Features Syndicate in New York for many years.

JAYNES STARTED his newspaper career with the Tucson Daily Citizen at Tucson, Arizona, where he had gone for his health after the first World War. He became general manager of the Arizona daily after the death of his brother and remained until 1928 when he moved to Los Angeles. He was publisher of the Highland Park News-Herald, a Los Angeles community newspaper, until coming to Palm Springs nine years ago.

"We are very happy to have George Cameron as an associate in the ownership of The Desert Sun," Jaynes and Risvold said in a joint statement announcing the reorganization. "He has taken a marked interest in the welfare of the community and shown his confidence in its future through plans for the construction of Cameron Center."

The law firm of Richardson and Henderson of Palm Springs are handling the legal work in connection with the corporate organization. Reid-Wade represented Cameron in the deal.

Palm Springs Trip of the Week

By CHRISTY COMERSE

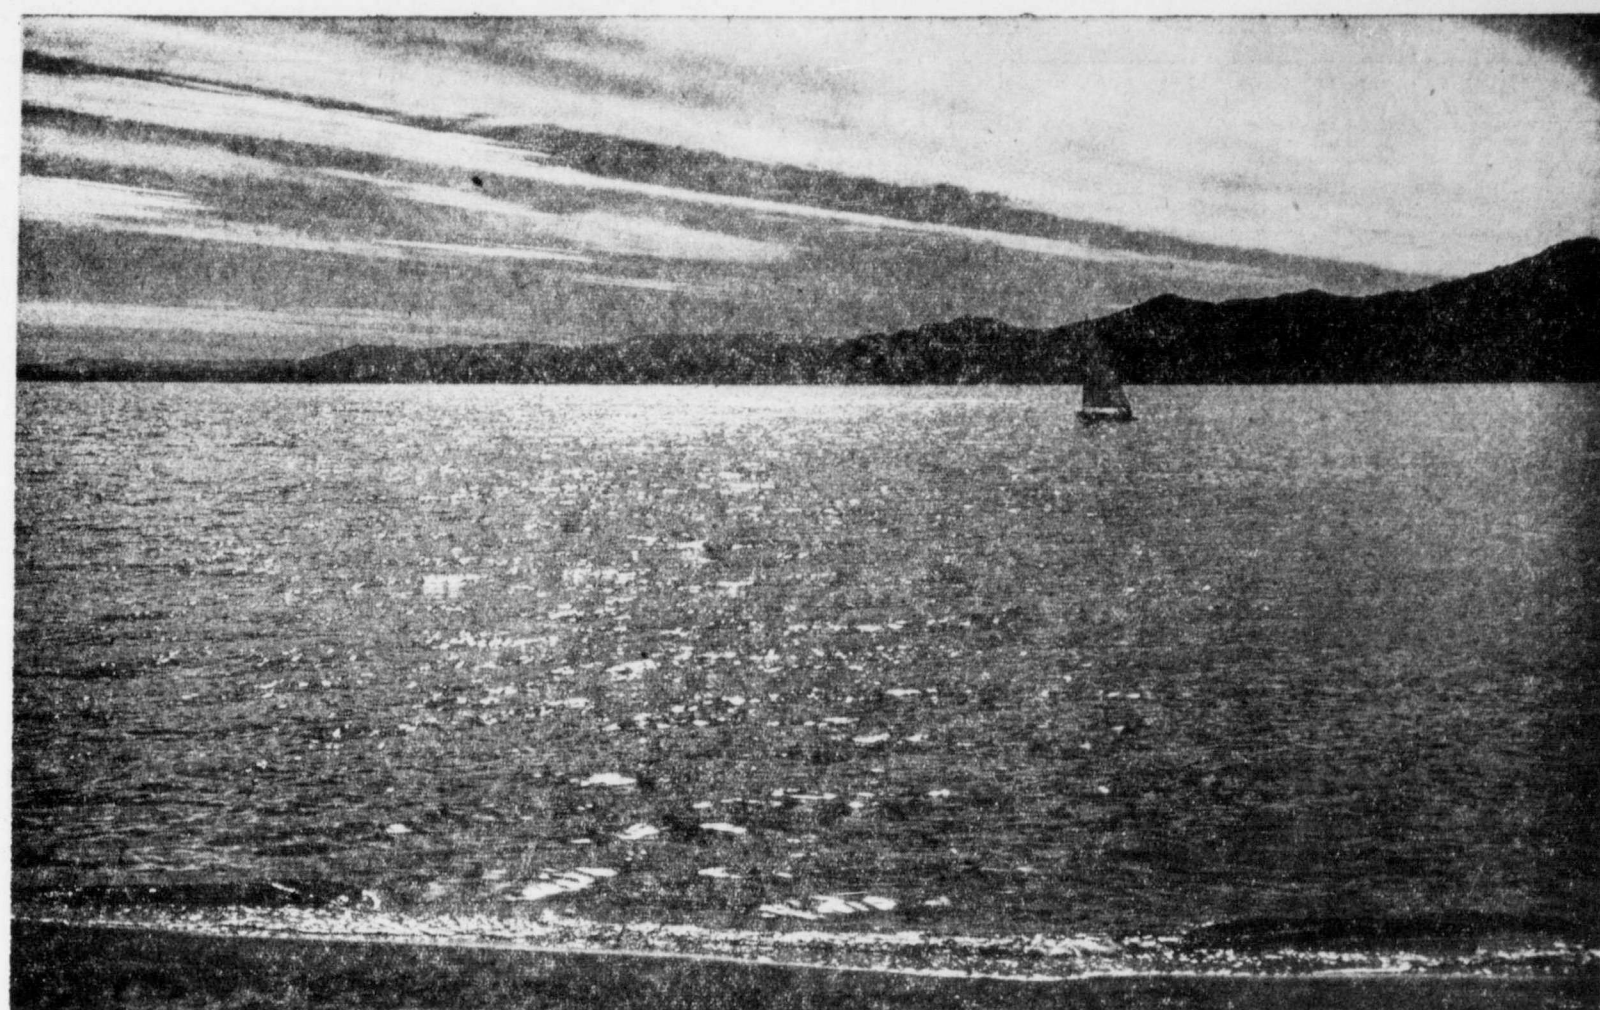

This is the seventh of a series of Desert Sun articles designed to point up some of the many things to see and do in the Palm Springs area. The articles will be slanted to both visitors and residents. Many residents become so caught up in the busy Palm Springs world, that they, too, need reminding of the nearby wonders. Photos and text are courtesy of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

water, since the sea's rise in water level has caused the abandonment of first class facilities.

IT WAS AT THE TURN of the century that a runaway river abandoned the lower eighty miles of its course and for the first time in California's written history began pouring its waters into the sub-sea level basin comprising the Imperial and Coachella valleys. In flooding the Salton Sink the river was doing what it had been doing periodically over millions of years. Most authorities agree that at one time the present Salton Basin was occupied by headwaters of the Gulf of California. At the time in question the Colorado was busy excavating the Grand Canyon and other scenic areas in Utah and Arizona and an enormous quantity of silt was being carried from its headwaters into the gulf. The silt delta formed at the river's mouth, gradually pushing out into the water until, after thousands of years, it had extended across the gulf to the Cocopah mountains on the west shore.

Completion of the silt barrier, according to theory, resulted in cutting the gulf into two parts; the upper, isolated end, becoming an inland sea; the lower portion, continuing as the present Gulf of California. Today, so thoroughly has the Salton Sea integrated itself into desert life that residents of Imperial and Coachella valleys would stage a last-ditch fight should anyone suggest its removal.

WITHIN A SHORT driving distance of Palm Springs is one of the wonders of Southern California — the Salton Sea. It was formed just 50 years ago when the Colorado River went on a rampage and flowed into Salton Sink for many months before the Southern Pacific railroad dumped whole train-loads of rock, cars and all, into the breach to return the river to its course. Fed by run-off irrigation waters in the fertile Coachella and Imperial valleys, Salton Sea is still rising, gaining three inches last month.

Easter Sunrise Greeted by Large Throngs Here

Almost 2,000 Villagers and visitors gathered at O'Donnell Golf club, below the Cross on Inspiration Point at dawn Sunday morning to greet the Easter sunrise in the traditional Palm Springs service.

It was the 39th Easter service here and was under sponsorship of Palm Springs Community church which annually arranges for the event. The first similar event was held in 1917 with but a small number of Villagers, a few visitors and members of the local Indian tribe attending.

Last Sunday morning as the sun showed at the eastern horizon, a fanfare of trumpets sounded, starting the services. Trumpeters were Gary Hammond, Rob Falkner and John Martin.

The invocation was by the Rev. John Morrow of the local Four Square church. A choir of 54 voices, the combined Chancel and Chapel choirs of Community church and the high school a cappella choir, was heard in three Easter anthems.

Bill Hay, radio announcer who has appeared for many years on each Easter dawn service, read the Scriptures.

The Easter sermon was by Dr. James H. Blackstone Jr. of Community church and benediction by the Rev. Deran Yallian, assistant pastor.

The services were amplified over a public address system installed by the Palm Springs Music company.

Besides the hundreds who thronged the golf course, scores in nearby private homes, heard the annual service.

BLANKET STOLEN

Theft of an army blanket and flashlight from her car was reported to police Monday by Alice Leenders, 554 South Calle Encilia.

Delay Hearing on Redistricting

Scheduled hearing Friday on the question of realignment of council lines here in superior court before Judge O. K. Morton was postponed because of the crowded court calendar. No new date was set.

The case was taken to court by Attorney Leonard Bock, whose clients ask a court order forcing council to declare the redistricting ordinance, voted here February 10, valid. The ordinance received a majority but not the three-fourths held necessary for passage.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Highlight of the Easter Week activities in the community was the bridal shower given in honor of Miss Mary Jean Lennie on Saturday evening, April 2, at the Thousand Palms Community Chapel in Shangri-La Palms.

Miss Lennie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Lennie of Shangri-La Palms. She is the June bride-elect of Donald F. Macpherson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Macpherson of Indio. She is a junior in Education at San Diego State College, and he is a junior Aeronautical Education student at California Polytechnic Institute in San Luis Obispo.

A treasure hunt, with clever verses found at each of several hidden shower gifts, led the honoree to the large basket filled with treasures for that new home-to-be. This hunt was planned by one of the hostesses, Mrs. Karyl Thompson of Thousand Palms Estates.

Approximately 45 guests enjoyed the evening. Among the out-of-the-community guests were the bride-elect's aunt (her mother's sister) and cousin, Mrs. Harvey Odgers and Karen of Yucca Valley; the groom-to-be's mother and sister, Mrs. D. F. Macpherson of Indio and Miss Ann Macpherson of Indio and Pomona College, and their friend, Mrs. Paul J. Leavens of Santa Paula; Mrs. Stanley Perry, also of Indio; Mrs. Harry Hill and daughter, Sandra, and Mrs. Blanche McGill, of Palm Springs.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Izzetta L. Hunt, Robert Kelley, Shannon M. Morrison, Clarence Reid, Wilburn Smith, Charles H. Wallace, Dewey D. Wallace, Horace Wiley, and Everett Willis.

DEBATERS

The Dewey D. Wallaces enjoyed a pleasant surprise when their son, Dewey Jr., a sophomore at Whitworth College in Spokane, Washington, spent Sunday to Saturday of Easter Week with them. He had as his houseguest for the week a fellow student, Truett Rogers of Gastonia, North Carolina; and Stanley Easton of Spokane, on Wednesday night.

The young men were three of the four students comprising the debate team from Whitworth College in Spokane which took part in the National Convention for Pi Kappa Delta, national debate fraternity.

Mrs. Helen Jones, Emilie and Joe, recently moved into the Harrison house on Calle Jessica in the new unit of Shangri-La Palms. They have purchased a lot in Shangri-La Palms and plan to build later. Emilie is a junior at Palm Springs high school; and Joe, a seventh grader at Palm Springs Junior high.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Welcome returned soon after the first of this year to their homestead located on Ramon road between the Lindley property and Shangri-La Palms subdivision. They homesteaded this property over twenty years ago, but have been away for some years. They are now spending a few days to a week or two at a time here as often as they can get down. Their other home is in Vista.

Mr. and Mrs. Duke Drummond are new this season residents in the Mason house on Sierra Del Sol in Shangri-La Palms. Also lot owners, they plan to build before too long. They came here from Culver City, where they have their

During the evening, an accordionist, Allen Sonnenburg, of Redlands, strolled among the guests playing the music they requested, for dancing or singing.

The guests enjoying the Meadows' hospitality were: the houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Barr (Mrs. Meadows' daughter) and daughter Vicki, from Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. John Coupin of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Bell of San Francisco. Local guests included: the Messrs. and Mmes. A dozen Desert Hot Springs boys from Troop 59 attended the recent Camporee in Palm Springs. Jack Hansen, David Siegel, Jimmie Smith, Jim Tanner and Tom Tanner, Jerral Schloke, Mike Goode, Perry Morris, Larry Rhodes, Norman George, Jim Stout and Lee Wright all attended.

"Ki" Mentzer, Scout Master, and assistant scout master, "Buzz" Bussell were in charge. Jack Hansen's Eagle Patrol was awarded a superior rating during the camporee, which makes them eligible to attend the Riverside County Council camporee to be held at Idyllwild in May.

The Charles Sakin's were hosts at a small cocktail party last Wednesday night, honoring the Bay Area houseguests of the Charles Meadows, who were here over the Easter holidays.

The Don Hulberts spent a few days last week in San Diego, where they gave their color picture program for the La Mesa Women's club. Women of the V.F.W. Auxiliary received a letter of appreciation from the National Polo Foundation, for the work which they did on the "March of Dimes".

John Hilton, famous desert artist, and an exhibitor at the local gallery in March, sends word that his second Mexican canvas, "San Juan Saint Day" has been accepted by the Art Museum in Los Angeles. Previously his "Muy Contento" had been accepted by the Cressmer Foundation, and is to be sent on tour. The Cressmer Foundation is made up of 240,000 newspaper men. Hilton is one of only five contemporary artists who have been so honored.

Chad Cornelius, who recently sold his home to Peter Elliott, of the Desert Hot Springs Escrow company, has now started work on his new home located in "Cholla Gardens". First in the order of building at the Cornelius place is the swimming pool, which is already well under way.

April 23, the Rebekahs will hold their card party at the Association Hall, at 8:00 p.m.

Proceeds will go to the Angel View Crippled Children's Hospital. There will be refreshments and prizes for each table. Lillian Pelkey, Vice Grand of the Lodge, is chairman.

NEW OFFICERS TAKE OVER

New officers elected by the new board of directors of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce last week are now on the job. They are Claude S. Cobb, president; Orvil Zappe, first vice president; Robert J. Cordes, second vice president; Warner S. Moon, re-elected secretary; and Mrs. Bessie Kelley, re-elected treasurer.

A letter from the state water resources committee urging the chamber to go on record approving the proposed Feather River project was read and a resolution of approval unanimously passed.

Dues to help support the Salton Sea Highway Association were authorized. This association is working toward the opening of Highway 111 direct from Yuma to Niland, a project which would reduce present travel by over thirty miles and help to divert traffic through Riverside county instead of direct to San Diego.

It was reported that there has been considerable over-night camping in Sunair Park, which is not desirable because of lack of sanitary facilities. A "no over night camping" sign was authorized.

To pay for watering and care of the newly planted palm trees along Broadway, the secretary was instructed to write the Woman's club and the Lions club asking if each would contribute one third of the cost along with the chamber. A committee consisting of President Cobb, and directors Edward Biles and Herbert Henry was authorized to dispense with a number of unsatisfactory trees in the park and to plan for a more efficient method of watering and general care.

On request of Paul Clark, publicity chairman, additional funds were authorized for a new three color brochure which is in preparation. Outgoing president Robert Sherrill thanked the board for its co-operation throughout his year of office. The board gave a standing vote of appreciation to President Sherrill who had, immediately prior to his term as president, served as secretary of the chamber for a number of years.

CLUB INSTALLATION

Desert Air hotel will be the setting for a luncheon next Wednesday when the Cathedral City Woman's club holds its annual installation of officers. Mrs. Randall (Cyril) Henderson, of Palm Desert, well known sculptress, will be the installing officer, and will seat the following: President, Mrs. Claude Cobb; first vice-president, Mrs. Robert Cordes; recording secretary, Mrs. Wilbur Harrison; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. K. Gordon; auditor, Mrs. Leslie Kelley; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. C. Lewis. This is the last meeting of a busy and interesting club year under the leadership of Mrs. Clare Ballagh as president. The club convenes the third Wednesday in October and meets the first and third Wednesday of each month through April. Members are cordially invited to bring guests to the installation luncheon, and reservations may be made with Mrs. Mike Gordon 8-3062, or Mrs. Paul Clark 8-4691, and should be made by Monday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McSwain have purchased the Sun apartments from Mr. and Mrs. August Schmidt. The McSwains have just returned from two years in Iran where they were in charge of audio-visual educational work under the department of state. McSwain also formerly taught at the University of Utah, and was formerly in business for several years at Wrightwood, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Algeo, formerly of Tacoma, have purchased the Cathedral Automatic Laundry from Mr. and Mrs. William Hastings. The Algeos have been winter visitors in the desert for several years, and now will make their permanent home in Cathedral City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Siferd and family of Black Diamond, Alberta, Canada, are visiting their cousin Warner Moon. For most of the family it is their first trip out of Canada, and the southern California desert is proving interesting and alluring.

Jerald Egbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Egbert, spent the Easter vacation with his parents. Jerald is attending the University of Arizona at Tucson. He was outstanding athlete in the 100 and 220 meter (a mile) while attending the Palm Springs high school, and is continuing his good record at the Arizona University.

SMC ACTIVITIES

Easter certainly played its biggest part at the Shadow Mountain club. Every day of the week had something to offer the younger set of the club. Teenagers Dinner dance was climaxed with an impromptu Bop Contest staged by a few of the very interested adults who were enjoying the party. Winners of the contest were predominately Palm Springs folks. First prize went to Wendy Hammond and Gary Soule; second place went to Jerry Ann Luke and Jeffrey Lillie; third place to Sarah Jane Karloff and Robert Barry; and fourth place to Judy Bagdasarian and Dick McFarland. To add to the impromptu entertainment, Randy Carmichael (son of Hoagy) ran his fingers over the 88 keys.

Another important and interesting highlight of this fun-filled week was the Children's Easter Party consisting of an egg hunt and a puppet show presented by Bob Baker Productions. Approximately 150 children and their parents were held spellbound over the antics of these very realistic marionettes.

THE PLAGUE RETURNS — An old menace reared its ugly head in the San Geronio pass last week. The cement plant gang, whom we have driven back more times than we like to remember, were camped on the outskirts of Cabazon and scouting around for recruits. The plot was simple to detect. It was more like a counterplot. Having been foiled in their last attempt by the City of Palm Springs through the extension of its boundaries, the cement mill promoters figured to "capture" the village of Cabazon and dig in. If they were able to win over the residents of the community, which has already sought a city charter, the cement crowd might even be able to write their own zoning laws.

These men seem to be determined to build a cement plant in Riverside county or bust. After years of unsuccessful efforts to set up a mill near the Palm Springs Southern Pacific station, they turned their efforts toward Hemet, one of the county's richest agricultural centers. A lusty protest turned them away and they took a whirl at the Perris Valley which is a famous potato belt. But the folks over there didn't like cement dust either and said "No."

It has been reported that they plan to mine the limestone up in the San Jacinto mountains and send it by pipeline to a plant near Cabazon where rail facilities are available. How much less objectionable this would be than the site near Palm Springs we would not know until complete plans have been announced. But there seems little doubt that the old danger of dust and smoke drifting down the Pass into the Palm Springs resort area would still prevail. The threat is back again, in any event, and the communities of Coachella Valley which depend on pure air and sunshine for their recreational advantages and agricultural pursuits must be on guard again.

In recent years residents throughout Riverside county have become much more smog-conscious. We believe that this matter of zoning for a cement mill is a county-wide problem, not a local one. Residents from all sections of the county should see to it that protection is given its important resort and agricultural assets.

PALM SPRINGS IS BEST — Someone asked me the other day if I liked the Florida resorts as well as Palm Springs. Perhaps I was being needed because I go down there once a year. But the purpose of my trips is to visit my daughter and family who live in Ft. Lauderdale — not for the climate. Anyway, I took my friend seriously and replied with a definite "No." I went on to explain why and pointed out that I considered myself well-qualified to compare the two states which make the biggest bid for tourist business. I've seen all of both of them.

The greatest difference between California and Florida is their topography. The Cracker State is as flat as a pancake and does not have a great deal of scenic variety. The Golden State, with its mountains and deserts, fertile valleys and picturesque canyons, has more scenic variety than any two other states. Right here in Palm Springs, for example, we can be 5000 feet up in the mountains in an hour's drive and down below sea level in half the time.

As for climate — that may be matter of taste, I like the dryness of the desert much better than the humidity that prevails all over Florida. As for glitter, there's nothing that will quite compare with the Gold Coast from Miami to Hobe Sound. Concentrated in that stretch of 100 miles on the West Coast of Florida is the darndest bunch of plush hotels and super motels you ever saw in your life. There just isn't any place like it. But that doesn't happen to appeal to me either.

The desert resorts of Palm Springs, Tucson and Phoenix have a very different appeal which many people prefer. It's the wide open spaces — the Spirit of the West! And when it comes to really getting away from city life Palm Springs has something on her sister resorts of Arizona. In fact, ours is one of the few resorts devoted exclusively to recreation and relaxation.

That is, by the way, the one big reason why we must protect this resort area from industry and smoke.

No, my friend, I prefer Palm Springs — and that's right where I'm going to stay — except for a visit once a year with my three grandchildren, no matter where they live!

IRVING HOFFMAN sends me a note from a friend who got so angry filling out forms that he burst into something approximating poetry:

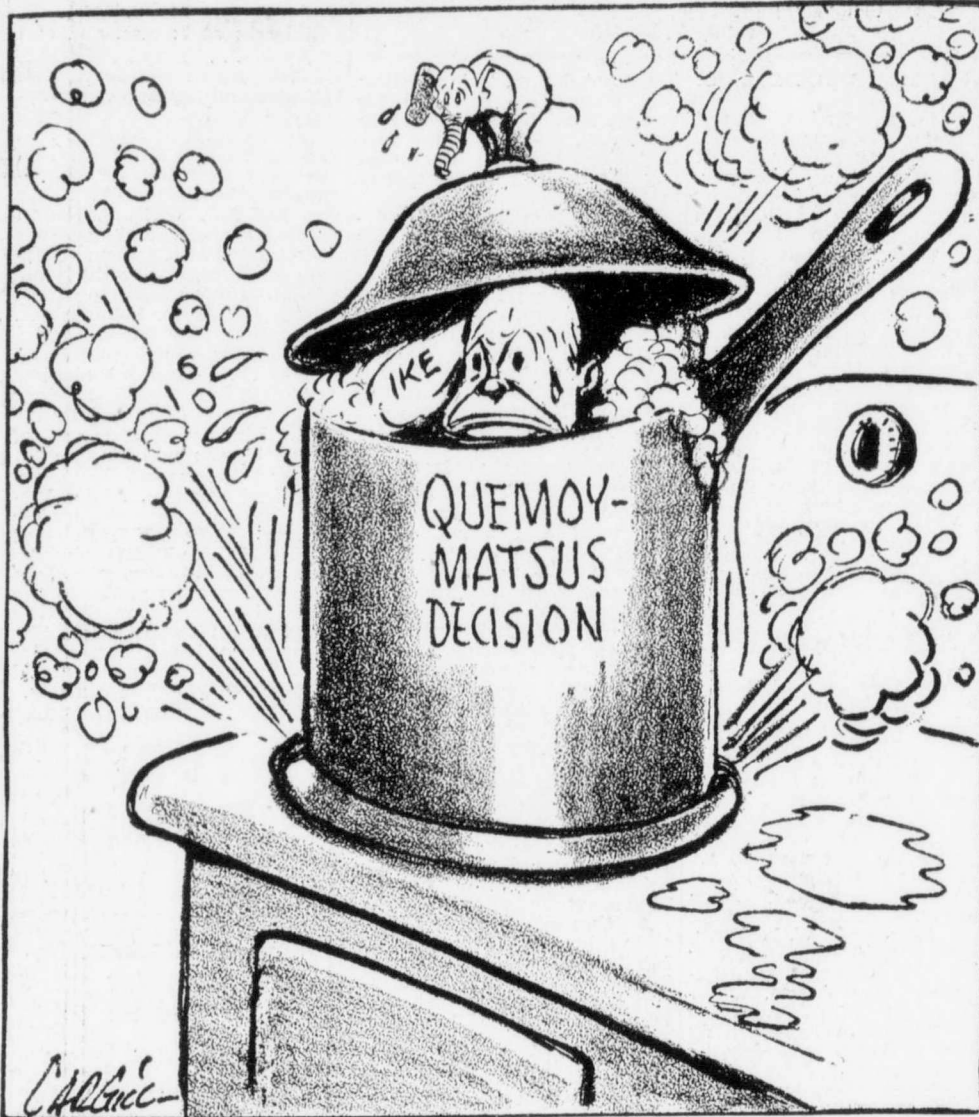

"Forms that ask you for your name in reverse,
Forms that ask for your first name last;
Forms with a lot of useless dope
That you couldn't read with a microscope;
Red forms, yellow forms, blue forms, pink forms;
Please write plainly and please-us-ink forms;
Blanks with a space you mustn't write in,

Big enough to fly a kite in;
Space the size of a pygmy flea
For a resume of your history.

Tax blanks, blank blanks, personnel blanks,
And just plain blankety blank, blank, blank blanks."

Gentlemen: The article in your March 21 issue concerning the Mexican capitalist who wants the United States to have a more receptive attitude toward Mexican capital is provoking a lot of comment and getting a lot of laughs.

I am enclosing check in the amount of one dollar, and wish you would send me a few extra copies if you have them available.

Incidentally, I would like to praise Don Klotzbuecher for a remarkably fine job of writing and reporting. You ought to be congratulated on having men like that on your staff. I come in contact with quite a few newspaper reporters, some of them on the big metropolitan dailies, and realize how difficult it is to get and keep reporters who are as competent as Klotzbuecher.

Sincerely yours,

ACCIDENTS COSTLY

California traffic accident costs last year equaled a loss of $26.50 for every man, woman and child in the state, the California Highway Patrol has announced.

Based on a National Safety Council formula which computes costs of all fatal, injury, and property damage accidents at the rate of $110,000 loss per traffic death, the total dollar loss for 1954 came to $341,440,000.

Patrol Commissioner E. R. Caldwell explained that the staggering economic loss was suffered as a result of a grisly traffic toll including 3104 dead and 108,265 injured in 180,186 traffic accidents. He emphasized, as another sickening phase of the entire traffic accident picture, the fact that more than nine thousand of the injured have suffered permanent disabilities.

Caldwell pointed out that despite the tragic toll, the 1954 traffic accident record reflected considerable improvement over 1953. Traffic deaths throughout the state showed a drop of 267, and 207 of these lives were saved in unincorporated areas where the Patrol concentrates its enforcement.

"Last year the cost to each Californian for the entire Patrol operation was $1.24, while traffic accident costs, if equally distributed, would have cost $26.50 per capita. Efficient enforcement is obviously a sound investment," the Commissioner reminded.

Preventing Polio

Tuesday was the day when the announcement of the result of the trial vaccination of polio was to be made. This article is however being written three days before that time. Yet with the exception of the actual percentage of prevention of the number of cases of paralytic poliomyelitis, which should be over ninety percent, the following statements are correct. They are based on information from the individuals in charge of this test.

The outlook for the early control of paralytic poliomyelitis is definitely favorable. How soon can this control be accomplished and what are the methods of this accomplishment? The vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk at the University of Pittsburgh has been prepared from all three types of virus, causing polio. It has been prepared according to known and proved methods of preparing such vaccines. In the original trial performed under Dr. Salk's direct supervision in Pittsburgh, the preventative results were most excellent. The antibodies or substances developed and found in the blood stream of those inoculated indicate a sufficient presence to protect. To make certain of a large supply of the vaccine the National Polio Foundation has already begun the distribution of twenty-seven million doses of the vaccine. This is enough to inoculate nine million individuals. It takes approximately three months to manufacture and test each batch of this substance. The United States Public Health service through its Laboratory of Biologics Control has already licensed four large pharmaceutical manufacturing companies who have started the production of additional amounts of the vaccine. These will be distributed through state or local public health agencies and will be obtainable by private physicians through pharmacies, for individual inoculation of any of their patients who desire it. Those who are to receive the National Polio Foundation free inoculations are (1) the children who participated in the 1954 field trial in 217 test areas but who did not receive the vaccine at that time (2) all children enrolled in the first and second grades of all public, parochial and private schools in the continental United States, Hawaii, and Alaska, during the Spring term of 1955. The cooperation of physicians is most essential in this widespread vaccination program. Many will volunteer their services to give injections to the children included in the school vaccination programs. This also includes individuals who have a high risk of developing poliomyelitis, pregnant women, and infants between six and eighteen months of age. The dosage or administration will be that used in 1954; namely one cc. of vaccine given intramuscularly, a second dose one week later and a third dose four weeks after the second. It is too early to assume the exact number of individuals who will be saved. However it is expected that the program will prevent about 4000 to 4500 cases of paralytic poliomyelitis this year. As the vaccine use is extended to larger numbers of the population a definite lessening in the incidence of this disease will become very apparent. The fight to eradicate poliomyelitis is on the way to being won. Science again will triumph.

Now is the time for that roundelay
That has to do with Stay through May.

Each year for the past dozen or so I have piped this refrain in April. Maybe that should have been typed, not piped. But I call it a roundelay because the dictionary defines that word as a "song in which a simple strain is oft repeated." ... Had the most success with that theme the very first two years it was advanced. More people who were here through the winter, stayed through May those years. They had to. They were in Uncle Sam's army, stationed at local bases.

PALM SPRINGS is famed because of its casual living. You can take it easy here, according to the publicity. Dress comfortably. And, unless you depend on that oblong slip of paper periodically, loaf in the sun all day. But, as in all things, this can be carried too far. This thought was brought up by that visitor who astounded pedestrians and traffic on Palm Canyon drive last week-end. He appeared on the drive in a really casual manner. As for casual attire, he really lived it up. None at all. I don't know whether he was smoking a cigarette, but he really was nonchalant. ... And a lot of men I know ever feel embarrassed when they show their knobby knees in shorts.

READ AN ARTICLE the other day in which the writer, sought to designate a national flower. After a long dissertation about the various state flowers which he said wouldn't do because they were confined to certain areas and not nation-wide, he came up with the idea that there was one flower which adorned bushes and shrubs from coast to coast. That was the Kleenex or like products. I am mentioning this solely to fix credit where credit is due. Because that article was published this year — 1955 — and about five or six years ago can remember a comment by Harry Oliver (ever read Rat Scrap Book) on the beauties spring in the desert. After extolling all of the other virtues, he wound up by saying "and the Kleenex bushes are in bloom from the Colorado to the Pass."

ECHOES from the visit of President Eisenhower to Palm Springs are still being heard. In the Village this week was T. R. Johnston and his wife from La Fayette, Indiana. Johnston has been on the city desk for several large Indiana papers but, like all newspapermen, he hopes to do, took an easier job in public relations. He does the publicizing for Purdue University at La Fayette. What's that got to do with like? Well, Johnston never gave much thought to Palm Springs as his winter vacation destination until last year. Then he read so much about like and the wonderful time he had here and the wonderful weather that on his very next vacation, he bought his ticket to Palm Springs.

READ AN ARTICLE this week wherein the writer mentioned that close by the Village you could be below "see level." Wonder what he was looking at. ... Herb Samson of the Citizens Bank each month puts up a new poster and gets out like blotters to stimulate thrift and get people to put their money in the bank. This month the posters and blotters depict a rabbit and a bunch of carrots with the admonition: "Bring your carrots to the bank." Respectfully suggest that next month he make it "bring your lettuce to the bank." Lettuce and lettuce is what they often call that soft, folding variety of Uncle Sam's handiwork.

WAS MUCH INTERESTED in that traffic control report released by the city after conferences with Automobile Club of Southern California engineers. What puzzled me is that suggestions were made for signals at four intersections on Indian avenue but they left out the main one where the biggest traffic hassle occurs. It's sometimes bad even on quiet or off days. That's where Indian avenue and Palm Canyon come together. That's where they need signals on busy days. Understand, however, that when, and if, they widen Palm Canyon drive from Ramon down around the Highway 111 curve, they are going to do something about that Y. It's one of the most congested spots in town on big days because it handles most of the traffic on Indian and Palm Canyon drive and also from the vast desert area to the east.

THEY SAY that the days when you could buy anything for less than a dime are gone. But read some statistics the other day and noted that Uncle Sam's mints are now turning out a record number of pennies. The total was 824 million last year. Maybe it's the expansion of parking meters all over the nation which has boomed the copper trade. Or the city and state sales taxes which even break up a nickel. Or the 99 cent bargains. ... Also read where the police of a certain city received an anguished call from a motorist. "Thieves have stolen my steering wheel, brake pedal, accelerator and even the dashboard," the man wailed. But before a prowler could be sent to investigate, the same gentleman called again. "Never mind," he said. "I got in the back seat by mistake."

"Misguided Missile"

At the last meeting of the F.S.S.T. (Flying Saucer Spotters of Terra) Dr. Schwine came up with a brilliant suggestion. He made a motion that Mrs. Schwine should put less mustard on the balcony sandwiches and not slice the dill pickles so thin. We all seconded the motion and then Dr. Kitzenger took the floor. He claimed that we could spot more Flying Saucers if we worked in pairs; so we divided up into groups of two. Dr. and Mrs. Schwine, myself and Mr. Cossayana and Dr. Kitzenger and Miss Patricia DeRay. Dr. Schwine objected and said he wanted to spot with Miss Del Ray because she had the best eyes. Mrs. Schwine objected to this objection. Then the neighbors objected and we adjourned the meeting.

Christian Science Lecture on Monday

"Christian Science: Certain and Complete Healing Available for All" will be the subject of a lecture to be broadcast over Station KFWB (980 kc), Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, from First Church of Christ, Scientist, Santa Monica. The lecturer, John D. Pickett, C. S., of Chicago, is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

"ATONEMENT" LESSON SERMON
"The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to live his life for many." This verse from Mark (10:45) will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" in all Christian Science churches.

The healing import of Jesus' atonement and its practical application to human affairs is pointed out by John in his first epistle (2: 1,2) when he says, "My little children . . . if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, but also for the sins of the whole world."

"Man cannot exceed divine Love, and so atone for himself," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She continues, "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit—the law of divine Love" (p. 19).

"If a Man is Deceived by a False Teacher, will God Hold the Teacher Responsible and Let the Man Go Free?" This interesting question will be the subject of Pastor D. Kenneth Smith at 11 worship services of the Palm Springs Seventh-day Adventist Church Saturday.

The third in the current series of lessons tracing the struggles and victories of the church from the time of Christ will be the subject for study during the Sabbath School period, beginning at 9:30. The lesson is entitled "The Time of the End." There are three classes for adults, and classes for the various age groups of children.

Army Day to be Observed May 21

May 21 will be observed as Army Day by Presidential proclamation and all installations where security regulations permit, will hold Open Houses that day.

Major Grover Heiman Jr., of March Air Force Base, is in charge for Riverside San Bernardino counties. Many navy, army, air force and marine bands will be open for visitors, May 21.

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways — they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history — topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

Today's the day to "Join The Test Pilot Club" and see what a thrill you get when you try Variable Pitch Dynaflo®

We're not kidding.
When you try a '55 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo, you'll feel like a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway for take-off.

For you, in the driver's seat, are doing what that pilot does—you're changing the pitch of your propellers—one way for instant response on getaway—another way for better gas mileage in cruising.

Your propellers are whirling in oil, deep inside the Dynaflo unit. When you press the pedal in the normal way, you hold those propellers in their economy angle—and you enjoy plenty more miles from your gasoline.

But when you want instant acceleration—for quick getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of emergency power—you just press the pedal way down, and—with absolute smoothness—you get the action you want, and split-second quick.

It's the thrill that's the talk of the industry — performance unlike anything you have ever known before on the ground.

And so many folks have been asking to try it that we Buick dealers across America have set up April as "Test Pilot Club" Month. All it takes to join the "Club" is a test drive at the wheel of a new Buick. That's all.

So we cordially invite you to win your "wings"—to try the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—and to feel the mighty V8 power that puts the whip to these gorgeous new Buick beauties. Drop in this week.

LIBRARY NOTES

In his book called "Kinship with all Life" J. Allen Boone tells of making a trip to the desert to see an old friend, Mohave Dan, to ask him how to proceed in his relationship with the dog, Strongheart, for whom Boone was caring. Dan's answer was: "There's facts about dogs, and there's opinions about them. The dogs have the facts, and the humans have the opinions. If you want facts about a dog, always get them straight from the dog. If you want opinions, get them from the human." And Mr. Boone's singularly exciting book is all about getting the facts from animals, a process which became important to him when he became a sort of Man Friday to Strongheart, the German shepherd movie star. What he learned from Strongheart he applied to other animals with amazing results. Mr. Boone's experiences with a family of skunks, an army of ants and especially with Freddie the Fly are very inspiring reading.

Another wonderful book about animals is Gustav Eckstein's "Everyday Miracle," chapters about animals which were written in the laboratory of the College of Medicine of the University of Cincinnati. Here over a period of time he observed the lives and loves of the creatures in the laboratory. There was the platinum blonde canary with her entourage of five males; there was Hinge, the rheumatic canary who became blind; the cat, Willy, who knew when it was Monday at 7:45 and turned up at the bingo game. Through his observation of these tiny creatures, Eckstein is able to convey to the reader the wonder of all life.

A book of particular interest to those living in the Southwest is J. Frank Dobie's thorough study of that "ecstatic little prairie wolf" called "The Voice of the Coyote." Mr. Dobie was reared in Texas on a ranch and over the years has studied and read and talked about Brother Coyote. His book is full of a lifetime of observation and thought on this unusual animal—canis latrans—and he includes many of the Indian and Mexican legends.

Just established and written with considerable warmth is Helen Martini's "My Zoo Family," which recounts the author's adventures as a foster mother to lions, tigers, leopards, gorillas, deer and other young animals in the Bronx Zoo. Her story is a demonstration of the fact that even the wildest and so-called untamable animals will respond to kindness and trust. Through Mrs. Martini's efforts there has been established the Nursery of the Bronx Zoo, which yearly saves the lives of young and valuable animals.

A keen and accurate observer of the animal in its natural habitat is Sally Carragher. "One Day at Teton Marsh" describes in the marsh of a valley of the Tetons all the creatures you can see when visiting the Jackson Hole Country. She studies in detail the otter, osprey, mosquito, mink, moose, beaver and trumpeter swan, among others, setting forth the drama of their everyday lives. It is as the priest remarks in a story Gustav Eckstein tells in his introduction: "There is so much more in (the animals) than anyone ever would be able to imagine."

Three Narrowly Escape Injuries in Auto Accident

Three Village youths escaped with only cuts and bruises when their car went out of control at 1:30 a.m., Sunday, near the north city limits on Highway 111, and crashed into a telephone pole before coming to a stop.

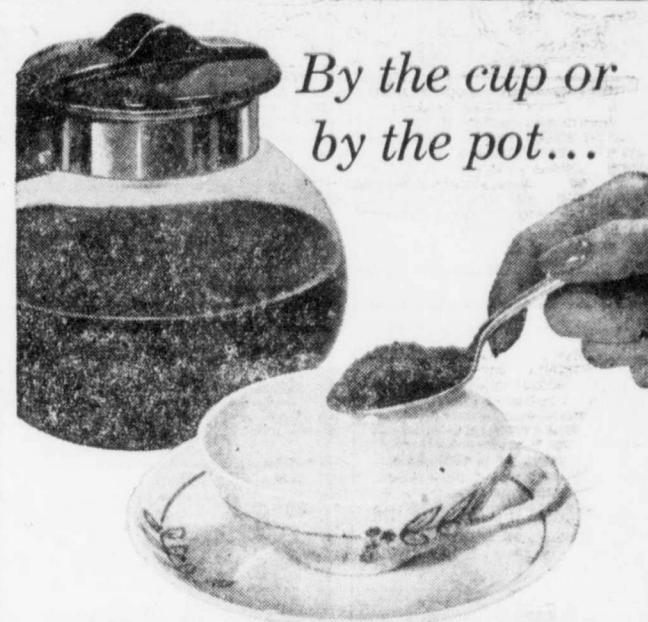

Driver of the car, David Tichenor, 18, 689 Camino Parocela, told investigating officers that he lost control of the car when swerving to avoid hitting a rabbit running across the road. Passengers in the car were James Granville Linkletter, 17, 169 Ocotillo avenue, and Richard Lee Terry, 17, 565 East Andreas road. All three were treated for injuries at Desert Hospital.

The car was traveling south on Highway 111, toward Palm

Putty Can Case in Court Friday

Ellis K. Johnson, 34, is scheduled to face Judge Hilton McCabe in superior court at Indio at 2 p.m. tomorrow on charges of grand theft arising out of the loss of $1220 in currency by Mrs. Dan Thornton.

The money, mostly in large bills, was taken from the glove compartment of her automobile March 28.

Detective Bob White, assigned to the case, arrested Johnson and three days later drew a confession from him, an employee of a service station where the automobile had been left.

The money, all but $20, was recovered from the bottom of a putty can, where Johnson had hidden it.

This Week's Garden Hints

FROM THE PALM SPRINGS GARDEN CLUB

Flowering vines supplement the flowering trees and shrubs in Palm Springs, and with thoughtful planning you will have color in your garden all winter, with an ecstatic finale in the spring.

We start, naturally, with the Bougainvillea, the showiest of our flowering vines. They will grow in any ordinary soil to a height of 18 to 25 feet, will resist cold to 25° after the plant has become established. However, protect the young vines up to 3 years with burlap during cold snaps. Ignores summer heat. There are seven varieties. America, a scarlet red; Crimson Lake, a bright red; Brazil, a reddish purple; Sanderiana, purple-magenta; Barbara Karst large red; Praetorius, orange-bronze; and the newer Pink. After trying the bougainvillea, in a variety of locations, we have found that it does best on the south wall of a building. This vine will give some bloom all winter, but is spectacular during March and April.

Both the white star jasmine and the yellow jasmine are frost resistant and can endure the hot summers. Will grow in any soil. The white jasmine does best in partial shade and has an elegance which entitles it to a place of honor in the patio. Its dark-green glossy leaves and beautiful, fragrant bloom will repay you for the slow start it makes. The yellow jasmine does not have the compact tidiness of the white, but it makes a fine wall covering as it has greater enthusiasm for leaping bounds. Likes full sun and blooms from February into early summer.

The Passiflora, or Passion Flower, is a tendril-climber with exotic blooming in April, and lovely foliage. Sun and heat loving, does best on east walls. Will resist cold to 20°.

The Doxanthus or Bignonia tweediana has evergreen leaves and yellow bloom. A hardy plant that takes about 2 years to become an enthusiastic climber, but is crazy for tile roofs. Will do well in either all sun or shade.

The Chinese Hat vine is another Bignonia that thrives here on the desert. It has a spectacular orange funnel shaped flower. Plant in full sun. Goes through the summer with aplomb but objects to frost. However, will resist to about 25°.

The Japanese Floribunda is the hardest of the Wistarias or this area. Don't expect flowering until the vine has aged, and you will find that the horizontal branches bloom sooner than the vertical. Blooms in March. Root prune.

The common blue Morning Glory grows rapidly from seed into a large sturdy vine, blooming profusely every winter. Does best on north side, but protect from frost.

And don't forget the Honey-suckle. It resists both heat and

Find Stolen Car Stripped by Thief

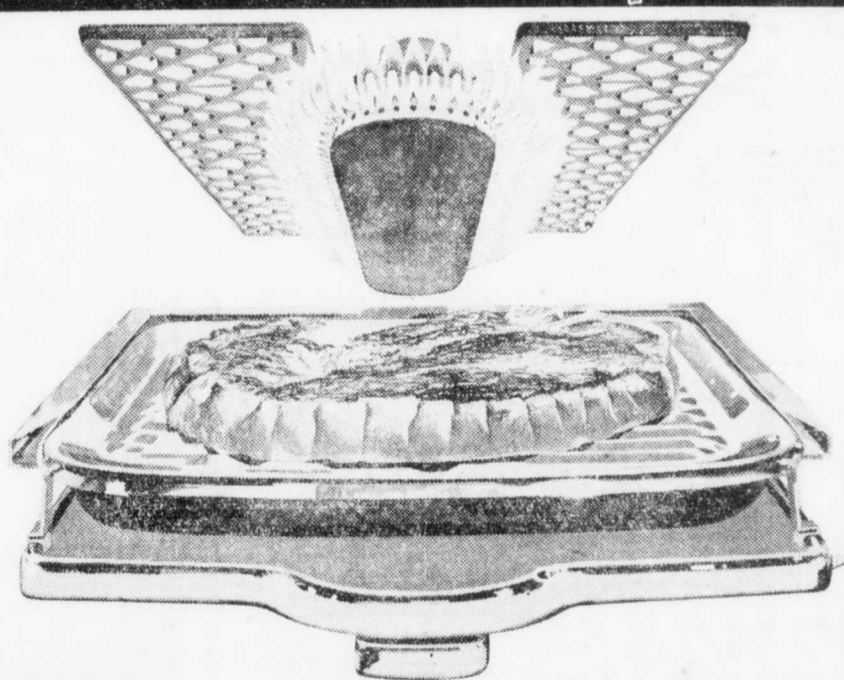

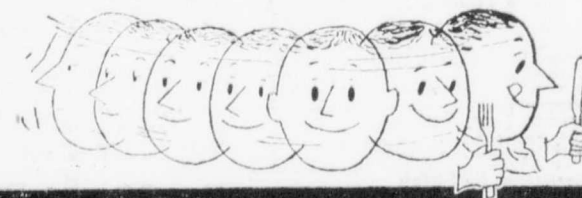

A car reported stolen in the Village late Friday evening or early Saturday morning was recovered by Palm Springs police about 5 p.m. Saturday, in a stripped condition.

The theft was reported by Pat Rollins of Los Angeles, who was visiting here at 811 Mission road. He told investigating officers that the car had been at that address up to 10:30 p.m. The key had not been left in the vehicle, but the doors were unlocked.

When recovered one mile beyond Twentynine Palms highway on Barrel Cactus road, the car had been stripped of all tires and wheels, the radio and taillight lens. In addition, other lights had been broken and other malicious damage done.

frost and does well on either south or west exposure. With occasional prunings it will be with you for the duration of your residence in Palm Springs.

Easter Bonnet Parade in Spotlight at Kane Party

A collection of Easter bonnets modeled by a parade of merry guests highlighted the chuckwagon party given Saturday night by Eleanor Kane. Marching to the strains of "Easter Parade" played by cowboy singer Harold Tonne, the guests modeled an assortment of colorful bonnets. Lovely Deirdre Treacy, daughter of Ann Gougler, won first prize for the women, wearing a cartwheel size hat trimmed in fresh flowers. Bill Eisenman won first among the men, with a hat made of a cactus paw the size of a dinner plate (stickers removed) and trimmed with small cacti and a lighted altar candle. There were hats with rabbit ears, nests of colored eggs, and many elaborate concoctions.

The beautiful walled garden of Mrs. Kane's home at 1476 San Lorenzo road was the setting for the party with long tables set up T-shape on the greensward. A dramatic grouping of bright stock and snapdragons was spotlighted in one corner of the garden and flowers bloomed in profusion in the circular beds around the trees. The table decorations were desert trees hung with doll-sized Easter bonnets and inverted hats filled with colored eggs.

The Desert Sun

Palm Springs, California, Thursday, April 14, 1955

3rd Section

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

This was the week that everyone expected things would start to slow down . . . Instead of that parties have piled up . . . with many a conflict of date . . . and it seems that everyone is party-minded . . . This has been a season of glamorous Balls and big charity affairs . . . which will come to a climax with the Beaux Arts Ball on April 22 . . . Coming up is the time of the luau . . . and dozens and dozens of poolside parties . . . as soon as we put away our Desert Circus Week western clothes . . . Thunderbird's big luau will follow close on the heels of the Beaux Arts . . . with the date set for April 23 . . .

Featured this year will be an hour and a half long spectacle "Bird of Paradise" which will be directed by Lottie Horner . . . This luau is always held under the pavilion and poolside . . . and the luau buffet is as spectacular as the stage show . . .

This past weekend saw so many parties . . . that it isn't possible to list them all . . . Neil and Grace Jamison hosted a party Saturday night at the Committee of Twenty Five . . . The Ruloff Cutters entertained Sunday evening at cocktails and dinner . . . and Monday night the Paul G. Hoffmans gave a chuckwagon dinner at their Smoke Tree Ranch home . . . all this in addition to the big Saturday night parties . . . given by the Flemings . . . and by Eleanor Kane . . .

Petunia Rabbit

Culinary artistry and talent at floral arrangements combine to make dining with the Sydney Schiffs a pleasure . . . Sydney leaves soon to return to Chicago . . . so they had a few friends in Monday evening . . . Crowning glory of the buffet . . . was shared by a suckling pig with a red rose in its mouth . . . and a big white Easter rabbit made of chicken netting and covered with big ruffled petunias . . .

Among their guests were Dorothy Gray Brown and Irene Kenyon of Acapulco . . . Bud and Vile Graves, the Burnham Bigelows . . . Asher and Marie Levy, Merwyn Frank, Julian Livingston . . .

Helen Lapp's friends tell me . . . that there are wedding bells and orange blossoms in the offing . . . for the charming mistress of Rocky Point . . .

The Roy Randolphs have purchased the Grace Pope house on Riverside drive . . . and take possession this weekend . . . Grace who has lived in this house since 1948 . . . except when she was off traveling or in Beverly Hills . . . gave it to her children Alex and Barbara Shields two Christmases ago (MORE on Page 4)

Insurance Men Visit Beckers

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker have had as their guests for the past week Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Frederick of Springfield, Illinois, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chilton of San Diego. Mr. Frederick is vice president and Mr. Chilton is manager of the San Diego office of the Franklin Life Insurance Company, of which Mr. Becker is president. The two couples have been staying at the Beckers' guest house on San Lorenzo Road.

Correction

The first garden visited on the Garden Club tour was that of Mrs. Alexander Marcuse on Via Las Palmas. The Club's report on the tour erroneously gave credit for the Marcuse garden to the wrong gardener. The man responsible for its perfection is Rudy Salazar.

The woman who has flown faster than sound and has contributed so much to aviation, Jacqueline Cochran, addressed Soroptimist International of Palm Springs at their Tuesday luncheon meeting at Chi Chi. "Aviation has been my personal passport to happiness," the aviatrix said, as she reviewed aviation history and the part that women have played in it.

Aviation today is the leading industry of this nation, she said, even though it is estimated that 100 million of our citizens have never flown.

Miss Cochran, who is the wife of Atlas financier, Floyd Odlum, came to Coachella Valley 20 years ago when the desert flowers were in bloom and fell in love with it. She bought land near Indio and built a house and, except when she is away on business (she owns a cosmetic company) or on politics (she flew to France to urge Eisenhower to run for the presidency), she makes the desert her home.

Other service clubs had been invited to attend. Because of a conflict of meeting dates, Kiwanis was unable to be represented. Dr. Arthur G. Hoff, president of Rotary, and Jimmy Cooper, president of Lions club, were present.

Miss Cochran was introduced by Addie Hubbard. Lois Lux, program chairman, announced that the speaker next Tuesday will be Lee Odle, who will speak on "Desert County."

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Melamed of Minneapolis are spending their first visit to Palm Springs at the Palm Springs Biltmore Hotel. Mrs. Melamed, a golf enthusiast is thrilled at her 85 on the Tamarisk Golf Club links. Mr. Melamed is president of the Coast to Coast stores in Minneapolis. Easter Hats Win Headlines in Tennis Club Parade

A panel of judges sat in a reviewing stand as the Easter hat parade circled the pool at The Tennis Club Sunday evening. Judging the elaborate and amusing hats were Bill Brooks, Howard Morris, Belmont Sanchez, Joe Froggatt, John McClure and Owen Churchill.

Lillian McClure's hat, a masterpiece with a red bird in a white pagoda, won her first prize among the feminine contenders, with Betty Bannerman winning second and Mrs. Carl Betcher third. Carl Betcher used the theme of Palm Springs—with coil springs hanging from a hat that was topped by a small palm tree—to win first prize for the men. Second and third prize winners were C. C. Hutchens and Billy Malouf.

Dagmar didn't win a prize but won plenty of attention and applause as she paraded with the other contestants. She was a member of the Hutches party as was Carmen Caballero, the pianist.

Janet Gunn emceed the parade which was arranged by Joan McManus.

The Club was filled for the Sunday night buffet and dinner dance which followed. It was a gay crowd that danced to the music of Tony Rose and his orchestra and even did a "Bunny Hop."

Pastel-colored balloons and colored eggs on trees decorated the Bougainvillea Room.

Mrs. Bob Hope had a table with Tony, Linda, Nora and Kelly Hope; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrell and their teen-agers Toni, Michael and Gregory; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Von der Ahe with their Charles, Tommy, Tina and Billy; Mr. and Mrs. James Conway with Judy and Jim; and to chaperone all, Bob Hope's aunt Alice Hope.

The John McClures had at their table Mrs. Frank Bering, the William Bannermans, Charles Carrs, Harold McAllister, Mrs. Edward Rothbart, the William E. Maloufs and son Jerry.

At Lee Anderson's table were Mr. and Mrs. Martin von Deln, May Mann (syndicated columnist and screen magazine writer), Mr. and Mrs. Voltaire Perkins of Los Angeles, Kay Spreckles, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hommes, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duncan, Cobina Wright, Hal Hayes and the Bill Crawfords.

Among the many others standing in line at the buffet and crowding the dance floor were the Joe Froggatts, Bertine Treat, Paul Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis (he is the Mayor of Beverly Hills), the Franklyn B. McCarthys, Tom Flemings, Mrs. Noble Banks, Muriel Fulton, the Homer Hilltons, the E. A. Youngs, Julian Bambergers, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robbins.

Coronation Night Queen from North

Noted in the audience among those enjoying the entertainment, was Gabby Hayes.

Chicagoan Honored at Big Party

One of the largest of the Easter weekend parties was the one given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleming at their charming home on Via Lola. Guest of honor was that popular Chicago bachelor Jack O'Connor who was en route home from a vacation in Honolulu.

Around 200 guests thronged the Fleming garden where a giant Easter Bunny floated in the pool. An elaborate variety of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres were served with the cocktails.

Among the guests were Mesdames Nate Milnor, James Kemper, George Barraclough, Earl Callan, Harold McAllister, William Eisenman, Jack Kenaston, Robert Kenaston, O.E.L. Graves, Thomas Dant, Eugene Kegley, John McClure, Ed Fallgren, Oliver Jaynes, Ward Risvold, Fred Albertsons, S. P. Manasse, Sam Kramer, Hathaway Kemper.

Maloufs, George Robertsons, Hathaway Kemper, Mrs. John Lapp and Walter Braunschweiger, Walter Brunmarks, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Williams, Mary Hurrell, the John Lucarenis, Mrs. Austin McManus, Julie Turog, Leo Owens and Mrs. Ida Weyland.

Garden Expert to be at Club Flower Show

The Flower Show on Monday at the Palm Springs Woman's Club will be the last event of the Club year.

Mrs. Boyd Andrews, Club president, will conduct the meeting, which will be highlighted by the display of flowers from Village gardens.

Classifications for exhibit will be roses, miniatures, wild flowers, bouquets, dry arrangements and miscellaneous. Mrs. William A. McCarty, chairman, has asked that all entries must be in not later than 11:30 a.m.

Judging will be done by Earl Neal and Mr. Lloyd and awards will be made to the winning exhibitors.

First Nighters Hold Last Dinner of 14-Week Season

First Nighter, the weekly dinner parties each Tuesday for the past 14 weeks and sponsored by Palm Springs Playhouse Guild, held its last party this week. One of the largest turnouts of the season gathered in the Tennis Club with Mrs. Austin McManus, who often is referred to as the "First Lady" of Palm Springs and the builder of the Tennis Club, as hostess. After a festive party the group went on to the Playhouse to see Herb Rogers' production of "Hay Fever" written by Noel Coward.

As this party on Tuesday night was the last in the weekly series a short program was presented when Mrs. John Lucareni, president of the Guild, introduced each member of the board, and personally thanked them for their outstanding interest in promoting the Playhouse and their untiring work to accomplish this task. Those introduced were: Mrs. Thomas J. Fleming, Mrs. S. P. Manasse, Mrs. John Lapp, Mrs. McManus, Warren Slaughter and Homer Hilton.

An unusual honor was the presentation of a corsage to Mrs. H. W. Clatworthy, who has not missed any one of the 14 First Nighter dinners. Also a special corsage was presented to Mrs. Harriet Bloomingdale, who travels over from Thousand Palms each week and has not missed many openings.

a party that evening, had the Franklyn MacCarthys, the A. P. Pollards, Mrs. Al Thompson, Mrs. Bertine Treat, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Backstrom. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Waite had Mr. and Mrs. Earl Callan and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dant.

prises is in store for all the members and their guests. Many special attractions are being booked by the Dixie Ball committee which consists of Mrs. Robert Morrey, Mrs. Dudley Steele, Mrs. Adrian Schwick, Mrs. Hal Kapp, and Mrs. Bobby Reichert. Around Town

She plans to go to the Racquet Club for a month's stay before deciding where she will spend the Summer. She fell in love with Spain last Summer and may go back to Madrid.

Color Films

Everyone who has been to Paris knows Medrano Circus in the Montmartre district. . . and it was interesting to meet Denise Medrano. . . Saturday evening at the intimate cocktail party given by Charel de Thomme in the garden of his home on Tamarisk. . . A noted ballerina. . . Denise came down with Robbie Kavanagh of Beverly Hills. . . who returned only two months ago from Paris.

The charming young Frenchwoman is here on a mission. . . She is interested in a revolutionary process that has been developed in France. . . that will allow producers to shoot color films in black and white at a great saving in cost of production. . . and is here to arrange tests for a major studio.

Denise says it will work for television too. . . Among Charel's other guests were the Carl Betchers who are returning to their home in Red Wing, Minnesota shortly. . . Dora Clark (head of L.A. City College). . . Zaddie Bunker's two sisters, Lily Goff and Henrietta Parker. . . Elaine Elser, Mildred Potter and the Ernest Garlands. . .

The E. A. Youngs who have been at El Mirador since early this year. . . leave this weekend. . . to return to their home at Hibbing, Minnesota. . .

Waltah and Gretchen Clarke plan to leave May 9. . . for a fortnight in Honolulu. . . before going to Laguna for the Summer. . . They are flying over. . .

Dorothy and Mace Gazda flew in Saturday from Chicago for a two weeks' stay. . . but will be spending much of their time in San Diego. . . as his mother Mrs. Mace Gazda is critically ill. . . They plan to come back out the last of May. . . to pick up their sons Mace Jr. and Gregory who are in school here. . . and close their house. . .

The Donald Duncans plan to leave May for Europe. . . where they will spend the Summer.

Shower is Given for Mrs. Hughes

Mrs. Bernard Hughes (Helen Stenborg, popular leading lady of the Palm Springs Playhouse) was honored at a tea shower given by Mrs. Austin McManus at The Tennis Club yesterday afternoon. Tea was served from a prettily appointed tea table and the guest of honor received many pink and blue wrapped gifts.

Invited guests included: Mmes. Dan Flax, Gail Gray, Thomas Dant, Emma Prather, John S. Lapp, Homer Hilton, J. Blake Field, Noble Banks, Dorothy Hoover, Homer McKee, Edward Maggard, Frank Camp, William G. Blondin, Frank Bennett, H. W. Armstrong, John Lucareni, R. Drew Stevens, S. P. Manasse, Thomas Fleming, William B. Malouf, C. Thurston Chase, Philip Waite, Carl Lyken, Harrison Leussler.

And: Mmes. Ruth Hardy, Howard Jay, Claude Gottbeuett, Charles Walters, W. G. Morris, Charles E. Dant, Alex Hammond, H. J. Bellingham, Mahlon Manson, Robert McKenzie, Henry Dollard, Della Gates, Harry Berger, Arthur Smith, Donald Gilmore, Edward Beck, C. F. AN AMUSING SKIT which was a take-off on their highly successful Spring Fashion Show, was the surprise entertainment when the Palm Springs Woman's Club held its Easter Monday luncheon-card party at Deep Well on Monday. The models wore old-fashioned swim wear and ancient vintage evening gowns. Seated in front is Mrs. Monte Herbert who was chairman of the Spring Style Show. Others, from left Mrs. William A. McCarty, President Mrs. Boyd Andrews, and Mrs. Ivan Barstow.

Style Show Skit Scores Hit at Woman's Club Luncheon

Around two hundred women attended the Easter Monday card party and luncheon given by the Palm Springs Woman's Club at Deep Well. Mrs. Thomas Holland was general chairman for the delightful affair and Mrs. William McCarty was in charge of the decorations.

Tiny parasols outlined with pink blossoms were used on each table and lent a gay aspect to the big diningroom. An amusing take-off on the Club's successful style show proved to be the "surprise" program. Mrs. Monte Herbert who was chairman for the style show, Mrs. McCarty and Mrs. Ivan Barstow modeled ancient months in the south of France on the Cote d'Azur.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Douglas spent the Easter weekend at La Quinta. . . and the Leland Haywards have just left after a ten day vacation at that popular resort. . .

Measles

Harry Joe Brown's latest production is a cinemascope-size case of measles. . . from which he is recuperating. . . This is what comes from being young in heart. . . Robbie Robertson made a classic comment. . . that "it's wonderful to get it over with while he's still young". . . Like slipping on banana peels. . . measles in adults are always joke material. . . but actually Harry Joe has been quite sick. . .

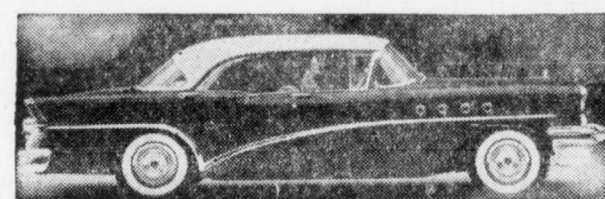

There was such a crowd at the Sunday night buffet at The Tennis Club. . . that the line-up of guests waiting to reach the buffet table doubled clear back around the end of the room. . . Homer Hilton cracked. . . "This is probably the most expensive breadline in the country". . . When I took a look at the big names in the line. . . I was inclined to agree with him. . . The buffet was bountiful. . . and well worth waiting on. . .

Edith and Dick Edwards are home from their Caribbean jaunt. . . but their thoughts are already turning Honolulu-ward. . . to the annual yacht races. . . They were at the last of the First Nighters dinners at the Tennis Club. . . So was Mrs. Harold Bell Wright. . . who has been visiting in her former home Tucson. . . With the Frank Bennetts were Senor y Senora Luis De Soto from Spain. . . and the Senora Adela Merry del Valle (the two women are sisters and look alike) who has spent the Winter here with the Bennetts. . .

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Metzendorf Jr. . . who were married last June in Seattle. . . are here for a belated honeymoon at Hotel Oasis. . . The two attended University of Washington together. . . but didn't start getting interested in each other. . . until both were Easter holidaying at the Oasis. . . Six foot four inch tall Dewey is a little inclined to look down on his cute little five-foot wife. . .

Bertine Treat is lingering on at her charming San Lorenzo road home. . . She will have the Robert Howes of Bel-Air. . . and Major Clarence Lang of Beverly Hills. . . for her weekend houseguests. . .

"Fun under the Stars" produced unbelievably elaborate gowns. Tony Rose of The Tennis Club played the piano for the show, which was staged during the luncheon. Mrs. Boyd Andrews, Club president, welcomed the guests and presided at the gathering. The afternoon was spent in playing cards.

Carnation Corner

Do you know one special reason I like Carnation Slender Milk so much? Because it has such an honest, descriptive name! It is exactly what it says it is—a milk that helps you stay slender.

Carnation Slender Milk has only about half as many calories as regular whole milk. So when you drink your three glasses of Carnation Slender every day, you know you're on the road to a prettier figure!

HE USES A THOUSAND AN HOUR!

A college oarsman uses up a thousand or more extra calories an hour during a boat race. He needs a lot of food! But when you do housework, you burn up only about 50 extra calories an hour. Reading a book takes about 20. The secret of reducing is knowing your average daily calorie requirement, and staying within it. Your doctor can tell you your calorie requirement by analyzing your occupation, general health, and other factors.

If you have children, I'm sure you already know how vital calcium is for their teeth and bones. But how about you, mother? Do you get enough calcium? A recent survey in four large American cities shows that most adult women get only about half as much calcium as they need. So do remember this: a single quart of Carnation Slender Milk gives you more than your minimum daily requirement, not only of calcium, but of phosphorus and important vitamins as well!

WHEN should you reduce? When your mirror tells you to. When your last year's clothes don't fit. When the slightest exertion makes you breathless. When your body motions become slow and clumsy. When you begin to be embarrassed about your weight.

WHY should you reduce? So that you'll look younger and more attractive, and have a better chance of living longer.

HOW should you reduce? Your first step should be to see your doctor. Follow his good advice. Be wary of "miracle" reducing plans. Don't try to rush things. Be content to lose a pound or two a week.

Carnation Slender Milk has gotten to be quite a husband-and-wife beverage in our house! My husband started drinking it a few months ago when our doctor suggested he lose a few pounds. He enjoys its flavor so much I get two quarts a day, one for each of us. For the children, of course, I buy the richer Carnation Homogenized Milk.

BULLETIN:

HALLEY COMET
Due April 18, alters course, will not appear as scheduled.

From atop Mt. Palomar, which houses the famous 200-inch telescope, comes startling news that the usually reliable Halley's Comet will not make its anticipated April appearance.

Brilliant astronomer Humperdinck X. Glamation expounded this theory:

"Ach! Dot Halley's Comet—es ist so temperamental—cute, aber temperamental! Venefer it giffs something else important, dod little sonofagun ships away someplace because he wouldn't play second fiddle! Und dis April 18 it it giffs Ramon Drugs' 7th Anniversary, so it looks like ve gonna haf to wait around 'til next time—dot's gonna be in April, 2163!"

(So now, folks, we've got two big events to watch for—our own gala 7th Anniversary Celebration, April 18 to 23, and Halley's Comet in 2163. See you at both.)
